The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1225 (Senate Bill No. 502), entitled

An Act entitled "An Act requiring the court committing any insane person to an institution of this Commonwealth to certify the procedings upon which committment was made to the superintendent of said institution.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill provides that the court, whenever a person is committed to an asylum, shall certify all proceedings, all papers filed, and the testimony taken in each case to the superintendent of the asylum. Now, this is a very considerable record in some instances and no provision is made for the cost of the preparation of that record. This is a very serious ommission because of the expense and trouble involved and perhaps it is a bill that ought to be considered by the members of the House when they come to vote on it.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 940 (Senate Bill No. 262), entitled

An Act authorizing county controlers in counties having a population of more than one hundred thousand and less than one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants to appoint a solicitor prescribing the duties of said solicitor and fixing his salary.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill provides for the appointment of a solicitor to county controllers in counties having a population of one hundred thousand inhabitants and less than one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants. This is an office that is now filled by the county solicitors in counties having this population. The legal advice required by the county controllers can be secured from the county solicitors and, as far as I have been able to learn, there is no demand for this office in counties of this size and the salary is not commensurate with the duties that would devolve upon this officer were he appointed by the controller, the salary being $500.00 a year. I, therefore, would ask the members of the House to vote against this bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BOVEE. Mr. Speaker, I move you that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. STRAUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1200 (Senate Bill No. 263), entitled

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, entitled "An Act to authorize the courts of common pleas to decree the sale of real estate held for poor purposes in the several counties, boroughs, townships and poor districts in this Commonwealth and the reinvestment of the proceeds thereof," by extending the provisions of the act to include the sale of real property of the Commonwealth reserved for the use of a poor district.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if any member of the House can inform the House as to what changes this bill makes in the existing laws with respect to the bounty claims.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, This bill provides that the bounty division which has been created under the Game Commission shall have the direct claim of the bounties instead of coming from the State Treasury as heretofore. For the bounty claims before this time a voucher was made out when a pelt was sent in and a voucher made out and sometimes it happened that it was from one to two months before the bounty reached the man who sent in the claim. This bill provides that the county shall pay this money direct and a voucher shall be sent in to the Auditor General.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 946, entitled

An Act authorizing county commissioners to repay moneys collected on forfeited recognizances in certain cases.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, there are a number of counties in this State where the county itself does not receive forfeited recognizances. I notice no provision in this bill made to take care of such cases.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, the act gives the county commissioners permission to repay forfeited bail which has been paid to the county commissioners. If there are any such cases as the gentleman from Franklin speaks of, this bill would not apply to them, for the money is not paid to the county commissioners. This bill gives authority to the county commissioner to repay forfeited bail, in cases where the defendant has surrendered himself and it merely gives the county commissioner permission to pay it with the consent of the district attorney and the consent of the court. It does not apply to the kind of a case which the gentleman from Franklin speaks of.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I am perfectly satisfied with the explanation of the gentleman from Chester.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would request that the sponsor of the bill explain it.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, the provisions of this bill allow a person unavoidably absent from an election on election day, to vote wherever he may be within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It has been very carefully drawn to prevent fraud and to preserve the secrecy of the ballot.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I seriously object to a bill of this kind passing in the House. I do not know of any sort of bill that could be brought into this House that would encourage fraud more than a bill of this character. It seems to me that any citizen of this Commonwealth who is sufficiently interested in his duties as a citizen would see to it that he remained at home on election day, or if he were away from home, the day preceding the election he could so arrange his affairs as to arrive in any part of this Commonwealth on election day before the polls close. This bill would only encourage absentee voting and I think it is the proper time that a bill of this kind should be voted down.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I cannot see why there should be any serious objection to this bill. In the first place the law now provides that where a soldier is away attending to his duties, as a soldier, that he shall be taken care of and there is no reason why that privilege should not be extended to other persons. Now this has been very wisely taken care of and the provisions by which he shall vote have been taken care of. This bill, as I understand, is drafted along the same lines as that allowing the college boys who are away attending school to vote without making an extra trip and incurring the extra expense in getting home.

This will give a travelling man who finds it impossible to be at the election place, and in order to hold his job an opportunity to vote and still hold his job. Many times a railroad man who is attending to his job is prevented from being at the election polls, and this bill merely provides that such people may vote if they find it impossible to be at the polling place.

Mr. URICH. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say that when a soldier deposits his ballot, and no one can touch his ballot or handle it until it gets back to the proper place. Another thing and that is this, that where we have these elections, and those men are permitted to participate in the elections, they will participate in the election at those places and will largely increase the cost, which should not be incurred. I do not think the bill is right and it should be turned down.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, in view of the slim attendance of the House, I move that further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1123, entitled

An Act to further amend section five of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, entitled "An Act applicable to all counties of this Commonwealth, to provide monthly payments, as approved by the trustees, to indigent widows, or abandoned mothers, for partial support of their children in their own homes; the manner of appointment of the trustees; the administration of the trust; amount of appropriations, proportioning appropriations, co-ordinate appropriations; amounts to be paid, form of records, eligibility, penalties, and reports, as set forth," as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of the bill explain its provisions.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, under the present law it takes a widow three years to establish a residence before she is entitled to the provisions of the act. A pauper can gain a residence in one year's time. It does not seem fair that a mother and widow who through no fault of her own should be in such an unfortunate position, that it will require three years before she can gain a residence. I know of one instance of a wiodw living in the Borough of Milton who moved out of the borough. In one year's time she lost her husband. She was living at Lewisburg. She was not in Lewisburg three years and she had lost her residence in Milton. Now if she lost her residence in one place in one year's time she should be entitled to regain it in another place in the same time.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MILNER presented a resolution which was read as follows and laid over under the rules:

Whereas The addresses to the Legislature signed by 445 widely known citizens of Pennsylvania, and 270 resolutions from labor unions throughout the State, and several rolls of petitions signed by more than 56,000 men and women of Pennsylvania introduced in the House of Representatives April 17th at the request of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association, are valuable to that organization and not necessarily of lasting use as part of the records of this branch of the Legislature.

Therefore, be it Resolved, That the said addresses, resolutions and petitions be returned to the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association.

RESOLUTION NO. 15.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up Resolution No. 15.

The resolution was read as follows:

Whereas Food experts economists government and State officials view with alarm the approaching shortage of foodstuffs in the Nation and

Whereas The granaries of the world are empty and America is now called upon to supply food to our allies in the present great war and

Whereas The shortage of wheat has caused it to advance in price to two dollars and forty cents per bushel and

Whereas In this Nation each year six hundred million bushels of grain are diverted from legitimate channels that of making foodstuffs to feed the people to that of distilling liquors and

Whereas France England Russia Germany and other Nations in the progress of the war during the past two years have found it necessary to divert this great waste of their grains in order to feed their people now therefore be it

Resolved That in the interest of efficiency in the army and navy and for the sake of conserving the food supply by stopping the unnecessary waste of grain which goes to distilling liquors which grain would feed one-twelfth of the people in the United States for a year we respectfully petition the President of the United States and Congress to prohibit during the war the use of all grains for the manufacturing of intoxicating liquors

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend on line 9, striking out the words "six hundred millions bushels" and substituting the words "large quantities."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to have the resolution read again as amended.

The resolution as amended was read as follows:

Whereas Food experts economists government and State officials view with alarm the approaching shortage of foodstuffs in the Nation and

Whereas The granaries of the world are empty and America is now called upon to supply food to our allies in the present great war and

Whereas The shortage of wheat has caused it to advance in price to two dollars and forty cents per bushel and

Whereas In this Nation each year large quantities of grain are diverted from legitimate channels that of making foodstuffs to feed the people to that of distilling liquors and

Whereas France England Russia Germany and other Nations in the progress of the war during the past two years have found it necessary to divert this great waste of their grains in order to feed their people now therefore be it

Resolved That in the interest of efficiency in the army and navy and for the sake of conserving the food supply by stopping the unnecessary waste of grain which goes to distilling liquors which grain would feed one-twelfth of the people in the United States for a year we respectfully petition the President of the United States and Congress to prohibit during the war the use of all grains for the manufacturing of intoxicating liquors

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution as amended?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, this seems to be the first measure that has come up before the House this evening, and I hear the sponsor ask for a roll call. It therefore seems pertinent that the House should know something about the resolution that it is about to consider, and I would ask the sponsor to explain it.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this resolution has been on our files for five days and I am a little surprised that my friend from Philadelphia does not understand its contents. The reason why I suggested to amend the resolution was this. This resolution contains the words "six hundred millions bushels of grain being used for distilling liquor." I understand that this is not correct, and I for one should very much regret making any statement here that could not be verified, and for that reason I have asked the privilege to substitute the words "large quantities." Perhaps nobody else can exactly state just how much grain is used for this purpose. The reason for this resolution to-night is this: This entire nation at this time is endeavoring to conserve its food supplies and the President of the United States time after time has asked us to get busy in our gardens. A great deal of foodstuffs are needed for our army and navy and every effort is being put forth to conserve the food products of our country. It seems to those of us who desire to conserve the foodstuffs that the grain used for the distilling of liquor is a waste, next to a waste at least, and therefore we ask that the President of the United States and Congress shall declare it to be illegal to use these grains in this time of crisis in this country for the distilling of liquor.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I hope that this House will not pass this resolution, for the simple reason that to my mind it is unnecessary for this House to petition the President of the United States upon this matter. If I understand the President of the United States, and if I understand Congress, it is not necessary for the Legislature here assembled in Pennsylvania to ask the President of the United States or Congress to act upon this measure.

When it becomes necessary,—and grant you, my friends, I do not believe it is necessary for such steps as this resolution prescribes to-night,—but when it becomes necessary, the Congress of the United States and the President of the United States will act as they think best for the entire country, and not only for the State of Pennsylvania. I say, my friends, that we are apt, if we are not careful, to be affected with some sort of hysteria on this line. I do not believe there is as much grain used as is supposed to be used in the manufacture of liquor to-day, or as quoted by those who to my mind are only attempting in another way to stop the sale of liquor in Pennsylvania. I trust, therefore, gentlemen, that this measure will not pass. I repeat, when the time comes, when we are at war, when the time comes that this matter should be taken care of, as Americans I believe the members of this House are satisfied to leave it up to the judgment of the President of the United States. I trust it will not pass.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

COMMUNICATION.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following telegram:

Philadelphia, Pa., April 30, 1917.

To the Honorable the Members of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania.

Hon. Richard Baldwin, Speaker.

Gentlemen: Philadelphia Electrical Contractor unanimously against House Bill No. 142 in its original and amended form.

Respectfully,

ALBERT GENTEL,

President Electrical Contractors' Association,
1503 Columbia Avenue, Philadelphia.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 494.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 494, File Folio 1751, entitled

An Act to further amend an act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as amended by removing the exemption granted corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering purposes and imposing a tax of two mills on the capital stock of certain corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes and appropriating the same for State and State-aid highway purposes.

was defeated on final passage on Wednesday, April 25, 1917, be reconsidered.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this is the bill that was defeated on final passage on last Wednesday. It provides for a tax on the capital stock of manufacturing corporations. At that time I voted against the bill for the reason that the Manufacturers' Association of Pennsylvania, which was interested in this bill, had asked for a hearing before the Committee on Ways and Means. In the absence of the chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means I made a motion that this bill be recommitted. The motion failed in passage and the bill afterwards was defeated on final passoge by a vote of 100 yeas to 25 or 30 nays. I now make this motion that the vote by which it was defeated be reconsidered, in order that the sponsor of the bill may have an opportunity of having the bill recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means for the purposes of a public hearing.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALLAN D. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. DUNN offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly adjourn sine die on Thursday, May 31, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen at 12 o'clock noon.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this is one of those resolutions that I think the entire House should act upon. It is a resolution which is privileged under Rule 66 and does not have to be referred to anything, but we can act on it to-night and I think it is one of those important resolutions that every member of this House is vitally interested in and this night when we are not taking an exception or advantage of anybody to bring a resolution like this up on the last day of the week but we are bringing it up here in the House to-night, when every member should be here, for the purpose of properly discussing and fixing a day for final adjournment. We have been here for four months. It appears, according to the press, that the work that we have done here in the past four months we could have done in less than two months and if we continue on the work that we are doing at the present time without fixing any final day for adjournment then we might last over into June, July or August, or into January next; but just as soon as we fix the day of adjournment the very committees which have over two hundred or three hundred bills in their hands will get busy, the calendars will get into such condition that we will work. We come here week after week and work an hour or two and adjourn and the next week we come back and work the same and the members from the far western part of the State and other parts of the State have to stay here while we go home, through no fault of ours. I have been here from the time the session opened until every week-day of adjournment. On Thursday, the day that we ought to pass bills, we are unable to do it, because looking over the House we find from seventy-five to eighty members present. The members are actually getting disgusted by being kept here in order to mark time. Let us fix the day of adjournment; let us get down to work and if necessary, let us work until Friday, because the rules say we can work until Friday; but let us clean up the work, and then by May 31st or long before that if we get busy and transact the business of the Commonwealth the way we came here for that purpose, let us adjourn this House and go home and help in our own districts to perform the work of the nation, where we belong now.

I say this is one of those resolutions that ought to be acted upon by the members of this House and not put in what they call the "Graveyard Committee" where nothing comes out. Let us vote on this to-night finally and if you don't want to fix that day, then we have the members of this House placing themselves on record whether they want to adjourn or not.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of the gentlemen of the House that we have not so far passed any revenue measures. It is absolutely necessary at this session that we do something towards augmenting the revenues of the Commonwealth.

There are over one hundred and thirty million dollars worth of bills in the Appropriation Committee and about seventy-two and a half millions to meet those requests. There are a number of things that must be done by this session of the Legislature before we can adjourn and the most important among them is the question of revenue. Now if you gentlemen expect to get anything like what the requests in these bills call for you better postpone action on this resolution until we have done something in the way of raising revenue.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Woodward.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, how long does he think it would take to pass a revenue raising bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, I don't see how we can pass a revenue measure inside of less than two weeks.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, this motion says May 31st; that is four weeks.

Mr. WOODWARD. Why set the date for adjournment until you have done something?

Mr. COX. That is the trouble. We are going to wait all summer and we have not done anything.

Mr. WOODWARD. That is not my fault.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I hope the House will pass this resolution and not refer it to the Rules Committee. I think there would be no trouble about passing revenue bills if we just had the bills to pass. We have had two revenue bills before this House and they have both been defeated. Now, Mr. Speaker, I don't know how we can pass any more revenue bills until they have been introduced and we certainly have abundance of time to pass all revenue bills that are needed if we just get them introduced and then go at it and pass them. We have been waiting a long time for these revenue bills and we have only had two and they have been defeated. Let us get down to business and see if we cannot finish up here and get through with it. We will never get through until we set a time to stop. The wisest thing the Republican organization ever did in Pennsylvania was at the session of 1909 when they met in caucus for the organization of the House and passed a resolution fixing the day of adjournment on April 15th and they did just as much work until April 15th as we will do if we stay here until the twenty-fifth of June. Let us get down to business and pass our laws and go home. A lot of us farmers want to farm, and a lot of us lawyers want to go to war. Let us do our business and then quit. Let us speed things up a little and get the measures in that are already introduced and pass them; than we can adjourn this Legislature and perhaps some of our beloved constituents will feel a little safer if we adjourn.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I am opposed to this resolution setting May 31st as the day for final adjournment, for two reasons: In the first place, in 1909 when the Legislature assembled in caucus and decided that the sessions should end at that time on April 15th, we did not have the present existing national crisis. At this time, Mr. Speaker, this country is at war. Soon our troops will be marching and probably may go across the ocean. No man living and certainly none of us can just exactly tell what will be expected. The State of Pennsylvania is the Keystone State of this nation. The State of Pennsylvania produces, I believe, more than one-seventh of the revenue of the entire United States. The government of the United States will require funds; they may require great numbers of men and God knows what else may be wanted. I believe for that reason, in the first place, that it would be injurious to pass this resolution at this time. My second reason for opposing this resolution is this: I ask the members of the House to please bear in mind that I am speaking as a Pennsylvanian first and as a Republican second. That I am not speaking from any factional standpoint but am speaking merely with the interest of the Commonwealth as much at heart as any member who is now jeering. Mr. Speaker, the Legislature of Pennsylvania is one of the three co-ordinate branches of the government. Under our Constitution it is our province and comes within our purview to make certain appropriations. For years past it has been a stench to the nostrils of the citizens of this Commonwealth to learn that after the Legislature had adjourned the executive had to pare down appropriations. Now, speaking entirely from the standpoint of a man who is interested wholly and heartily in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and seeing that the Legislature does good work, I think it is unfair to burden the executive with such responsibility; not only unfair for the reason that the executive himself will have to take unto himself the duties of the Legislature, but because the Legislature does not see to it that its wish and mandate is carried out. Millions of dollars are appropriated in excess of our revenue, and it seems to me that when the time does come to finally act upon a resolution of this kind that the proper spirit for each to exhibit in approach that proposition would be to take a recess until such time as the Governor will have had an opportunity to act upon the appropriation bills that are before him and will send his messages with his opinions thereon back to this Assembly and this Assembly in its wisdom can then so act as to properly see that its wishes are carried out. It is unfair to the Executive and unfair to us to go home and say to our constituents, we have passed this or that appropriation for your institution. We go home and we say this and say that, and that we have done that, but we all know that the Executive has the last say and that the will of the Legislature can be subverted, and not maliciously, and I say that because the Executives has sometimes to do that as a matter of necessity. I think the time is ripe when the Legislature of Pennsylvania should so conduct its business as if it were a private enterprise and conduct its business as a board of directors would would conduct a corporation who would see to it after the president of that board of directors has had his say that the directors can again say: "Well, now we want to see that they are carried out, that you are right," and we would like to do that this way and we will pare down our appropriations accordingly. I hope the motion to put this resolution in the Rules Committee will prevail.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I was about to rise to speak on the motion before the House to refer this resolution to the Rules Committee until the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, just mentioned the Rules Committee and we would probably have lost sight of the motion. I want to take issue just for the moment with my friend and colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn. The Rules Committee of this House is not a graveyard committee. I honestly believe, gentlemen, that if this House had a graveyard committee, we would probably be in better shape to-night than we are—if we had such a committee. But we have not and this Rules Committee is not such a committee. As I understand the resolution and as we understand the Rules Committee this resolution, while it is one of the privileged resolutions and one that can receive consideration, yet I submit to the members of this House this thought: The Committee on Rules has had nothing to do this session so far, therefore no member of this House can question the integrity or honestry of purpose of the membership of that committee, and if this resolution was to-night referred to the Committee on Rules, it would not mean that the resolution would not be considered. It might, perhaps, mean that after that committee had conferred with all of the interests that the Appropriations Committee has on hand and all the other various bills that the several committees have in hand, that the Rules Committee might come back to this House and recommend the date set. It might possibly be that it might recommend a date in the near future, a date possibly a week or two weeks later than the date set, but I contend, gentlemen, that the Rules Committee is the proper place for this resolution, because there it can get proper consideration, and every member who has anything of importance can come there and state his case and we can then decide to present to this House the thought as to when it is best to adjourn. I trust the motion to refer to the Rules Committee will prevail.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, with pleasure.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman take into consideration the fact that May 30th is Decoration Day, it comes on the date before the adjournment of this House, if it should pass?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I am aware of the fact.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, is it the intention of the gentleman that we shall be here in session on May 30th?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, if it is really necessary, yes, because Congress has met on Sunday when they thought it was necessary.

Mr. MCNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, in my judgment, and I believe in the judgment of the majority of the members of this House, there is no better place to consider this motion than here. There is absolutely no reason to refer this motion to any Rules Committee. The men of this House recognize that there must be a definite time fixed for an adjournment in order that the work may be spurred up and something accomplished, and when my friend from Delaware got up and expressed the wish that there was such a committee known as the "graveyard committeee," I thought he was going to follow that up by saying that some of the foolish legislation proposed in this House might have been referred there and met a natural death and not have consumed the time of this Legislature. Now I submit for the consideration of the gentlemen of this House that there must be a time set for adjournment and quickly, too, because there is not a man here, whether he be a farmer, a business man, or a professional man, that does not feel that his time is being wasted. We are all anxious to get back to our respective callings, and if there is a time when the agriculturist is needed it is the present time, because the output of his farm will be needed if we believe, and we do believe, what we read in the newspapers, give him an opportunity to go back and till the soil in order that the production thereof may be scattered among those in need of it. Give the business men an opportunity to go back and take up the reins of business, and the professional man also. I submit for the consideration of this House that it was with no surprise that I heard the cry "this war will keep us in session." There is no necessity for a recess. The people of the State of Pennsylvania have been told time and time again that this Legislature would not dare to adjourn, but would have to recess. That is ridiculous. We are the best judges of that which concerns us. Not one of us is tied to any man's chariot wheel, if we want to adjourn, we will adjourn, and not recess. He speaks of the necessity of a continuous session to meet the want that may suddenly arise. Why during the Spanish-American War no Legislature was in session, and yet Pennsylvania did its duty. We are not anything other than American citizens, willing to do our duty, but we will not be subjected to an imposition on the part of any man who says to us that we dare not adjourn, but will be compelled to recess. I ask the men of this House not to refer this motion to the Rules Committee, but vote on it and pass it fixing the date set in the resolution for the adjournment on the last of the coming month of May. Gentlemen, I ask you not to permit this to go back to Rules Committee, pass on it yourselves, you are the most competent judges because if this resolution concerns anybody, it concerns each and every member of this House.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, no member of this House is more anxious for an early adjournment than I mself, but I fully realize that as a member of this body, I have a responsibility to discharge and until that duty has been performed, I shall oppose any motion to an early adjournment. There is only one time for this Legislature to adjourn, and that is when it has performed and completed its duties, and until then it should continue at its work. The questions the people in the rural districts are the most anxious about are increases in appropriation to the common school, to an amount representing $18,000,000; and for increased appropriation for work on the public roads, and until there are revenues enough to take care of those two items, I am opposed to adjournment. Mr. Speaker, I would like at this time to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee if in his judgment the revenues of this State in sight at this time are sufficient to warrant the Appropriation Committee in reporting out the common school appropriation bill carrying $18,000,000?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, there are not.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. And further, Mr. Speaker, whether the revenues are sufficient to appropriate $20,000,000 for good roads?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. Speaker, there are not. And I would just like to say that there has been no highway bill introduced into this House yet. I have had the matter up with the Highway Department and they are now preparing a bill, and think they will be able to have it ready by to-morrow, covering the subject of improved roads. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to go a little further in answering that question and say that it will be absolutely necessary if there is to be an increase in the road appropriation, and school appriation, to pass some revenue measures. I have introduced a number, and I expect the Ways and Means Committee will give some consideration to those bills this week. I had a talk with the chairman of that committee and he expected to call a meeting some time to-morrow to act on it. I would advise the members of this House not to pass this resolution at this time.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Then, Mr. Speaker, I will vote to refer this resolution to the Committee on Rules, and I shall also then vote, if that motion fails, against any adjournment on the 31st of May or until there are revenues enough in sight to take care of the increased appropriations on these subjects.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, when you as Speaker of this House made your opening remarks to the members, advising them to use economy and efficiency in conducting the business of this House, and eventually work as we should work for the purpose of an early adjournment, I was in hopes that the words, falling on the minds of the members of this House would have made an impression. I thought that the word "economy" would be used to shorten the session of this House, which will save at least fourteen hundred dollars a day. I thought "efficiency" would be used in using the proper methods or regulations so that our work would be done and completed in as short a time as possible. On March the 11th, 1915, the following resolution was presented to this House: "Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly adjourn sine die on Thursday, May the sixth, 1915, at 12 o'clock noon.

"The SPEAKER. The resolution will lie over for printing.

"Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, That resolution does not lie over for printing. It comes up for immediate action under rule 66. It is one of the exempted resolutions.

"The SPEAKER. The Chair withdraws his decision.

"Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules.

"Mr. GIBSON. I second the motion.

"On the question,

"Will the House agree to the motion?

"Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, it is specifically provided that under the rules of the House that this is not one of the resolutions to lie over and be printed."

The resolution was offered by the Honorable Speaker of the House, the gentleman from Delaware, and I am quoting from the records the remarks of the Honorable Speaker made at that time in regard to sustaining the resolution of which he was the sponsor.

"It is a resolution that is so simple that every member in this House comprehends just what it means. This resolution was introduced by the member from Delaware after a very careful canvass of the members of the House on this subject. I did not find in my inquiry through the House a single objection to this resolution. I did not want to say what I am going to say. I hoped the resolution would pass without my calling the House's attention to conditions that have existed here and that have been very much against my wishes. I realize that my party has pledged the people one thing over and above all others and I believe that the people of the State, irrespective of party, feel that we owe this matter to them, namely, that our legislative body, when it came to Harrisburg, would get down to business, get the business of this body carefully considered and disposed of and adjourn sine die and save the State every dollar that we could. I want to say to the members of this House who have not taken the trouble to examine into the proposition, that it costs about forty thousand dollars a month—and I am speaking conservatively too—every month that this legislative body is in session. Now that is the expense of running this legislature. If we can same one week for the State in performing these duties we will save ten thousand dollars. Now we have been in session over two months. I don't believe I can say that—at least within my memory—that any legislative body has given as few days and as few hours to the consideration of the business that has been presented to us. If this consideration continues we will have failed to keep one of the pledges to the people that every one of us know we should keep and can keep. After an experience of several years here I can say to the members of the House that the business atmosphere of this House will change in such a marked degree when you have decided on a day for adjournment sine die, that you will be surprised that some members of this House of experience had not taken this action earlier in the session."

That was offered on March the 11th.

"Now it, in my opinion, offers ample time to consider and dispose of the business that is in front of us. I want to say to the members that if this House were to stay in session for twelve months bills will be continually coming in, the most of them on trivial matters; so that there is no necessity, in my estimation, for additional time over the 6th of May to give consideration to the legislation that we will have to consider if we will only work as we used to work twenty years ago, every day, and never adjourn until Friday. When I came to this House twenty years ago there was no thought of adjourning this House until Friday; and if you will examine the rules of this House you will find in the rules a provision for the rule of order on Friday, and there is nobody here yet found any necessity for that rule for Thursday until this week; so that I do hope that the House will pass this resolution and save the State and from this on say we are willing to work five days in the week. It is an outrage and shame that men in this State will have come from two to three hundred miles and have to stay here five days out of every seven and wait to work two days."

Now, gentlemen of the House, this is quoted from the records, from the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware two years ago. Our Appropriations Committee in 1915 had all of the bills out of their hands on May 12th. Every bill was out of their hands, and on May 19th every bill had passed this House, every bill had passed this House in seven days after the Appropriation Committee had started to put the bills out. They talk about revenue. I am aware of the fact that this condition exists, but over two months ago we appointed a special committee at the suggestion of certain members of the House, heads of various committees to act in conjunction with the Ways and Means Committee, to get these revenue bill out. That was two months ago. I understand that the Attorney General has prepared bills on revenue, and why could not the Ways and Means Committee and this special committee get those bills out? Inside of two weeks the revenue bills could pass, and inside of two weeks from that time the other appropriation bills, and on the 31st day of May we can adjourn with all our work completed.

MR. RININGER IN THE CHAIR.

Speaker BALDWIN. Members of the House, at the beginning of the session I had my mind made up not to go on the floor during the session, but since the gentleman from Philadelphia has brought me so prominently into this question, I feel that it is my duty as a member of this House to express myself on the subject, and call the attention of the House to the vast difference between the situation when that speech was made (that my friend has so kindly quoted to you, and that I delivered here two years ago) and the present situation. There is absolutely no parallel.

I want to say that in my twenty years' experience here—and I don't like to say it—that I don't recall that there was ever such a disposition on the part of members to go home. My friend from Philadelphia refers to my opening statement when I was honored with the office of Speaker of this House. I meant everything that I said, namely, economy and efficiency. I have striven as best I knew how to meet that promise. I have so frequently urged the members on the necessity of staying here and legislating that I felt that I bordered on the point of being a pedagogue and czar; and yet, sometimes when I felt that I might overstep the bounds I have, in the interest of what I thought was my duty, still called the House's attention to the matter. I don't believe there is a member in the House who is willing to volunteer to work harder than he worked last week. I believe the House has fully awakened to the fact that we must work and give all the time that a reasonable man would expect any member of the legislature to give to the interests of the State pertaining to the offices which you fill. We have at the present time a grave duty before us that has not yet been performed. It has been so well put by my friend from Tioga that it is scarcely necessary for me to reiterate it. I do not believe there is a member of this House who is not anxious to do the work pertaining to his office and really perform the trust confided in him by his constituency in a proper manner and get home as soon as the interests of the State have been served and he has performed the duties of his office with credit to himself, with credit to his constituency and with credit to the State.

You all well remember that in the opening of this session, in addition to what they suggested, that your Speaker suggested the importance of Committees giving careful consideration to measures in their hands and to be able to explain, either them or the author, or someone, each and every bill that came from Committee. You will also remember that the Speaker called the attention of the House to the fact that the work of this House was not going to depend on the volume of bills that got on the statute books but the quality of legislation that went onto them.

Now, my judgment is that an empire of ten million people, under conditions that we are now operating under, namely, a nation at war, namely the public demanding—and they have a right to demand—a large appropriation for the public schools of this State and a larger appropriation for the improvement of the great highways. Taxation is a proposition that always meets the opposition. It is one of the classes of legislation which, unless carefully considered and wisely and well defended on the floor of the House, invariably fails. That duty has not yet been performed. Certainly, there is no member that sits in this House, who is a member of the Appropriations Committee, can say that they had not worked as diligently as members of this House can be asked to work in the interests of their State, and I don't believe there is a member of that committee will rise here and say to you that even those matters alone can be properly considered in the absence of revenue and adjourn, and do justice to the State, on the thirty-first of May. If the members of this House think it can be done I am perfectly satisfied, but I want to warn you that if you do that and are ready to adjourn you will have to thrust through this House a great volume of legislation that none of you will know what you have done. If you want to take that responsibility and go back to your people, why pass this resolution. Really, I do not quite agree with my friend from Tioga on the question of referring the matter to the Committee on Rules. I believe that it would be wiser, although I am not going to be technical by offering it, to send it to the Committee on Rules for the reason it is the duty of the Committee on Rules to examine carefully all subjects such as this and make inquiry, as suggested by my friend and colleague from Delaware, as to what is probably the earliest day at which this House can wisely adjourn. I firmly believe the committee will make a report. I want to say here that we should urge that committee, and I believe that all the members of the House agree with me that we urge that committee to make a report inside of five days and state what they find as a result. Then all the members still disagreeing with the report of the committee can have the question put to a vote. More than that, I think it would be well for the House, after what has been said here to-night, to allow this subject to be well discussed, well thought out before you decide it. My own judgment is that you are going to act rashly and my own judgment is that you will have to extend the time. It is my personal judgment that under the present conditions of this great State of ours, in the great demands that are being made on this Legislature, to do justice to so many deserving institutions, to do justice to the educational department of the State and to the improvement of the public highways of our State that we, as members of this House, can afford to give all these subjects careful and full consideration and then act wisely and then vote on these paramount propositions. And you must not ignore the fact that you are living under conditions different from two years ago, namely, that your State may be called upon to aid in this great national movement, a war with one of the most powerful nations, a condition with all Europe on fire, and if we get up and say that we must adjourn and go home on the thirty-first day of May, in my judgment the well thinking and intelligent men will say that you have voted and acted rashly but if you have acted wisely it will be more than the result of mature judgment. I sincerely hope that you will not take this rash action; and it is only because of the fact that my friend from Philadelphia has brought my personality into this argument that I have felt constrained to take the floor.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if the gentleman would allow himself to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, sure.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, in the event of the House passing this resolution to adjourn on May 31st would it stop the Rules Committee from making inquiry and coming back and saying we had make a mistake and giving us an opportunity to reverse ourselves? Couldn't we do that any time before the final day of adjournment?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, why of course; every member of the House knows that you can reconsider a vote on a proposition without my answering the question. But it is certainly appropriate for me to suggest to the gentleman from Philadelphia that we don't want to put the cart before the horse. It does not show wisdom or mature judgment.

Mr. McNICHOL. It takes no power away from the Committee on Rules, does it?

Mr. BALDWIN. Of course, it takes no power away from the Committee on Rules but the Committee on Rules will not want to act on the subject unless the resolution is presented to them.

Mr. McNICHOL. If they feel that the House has made a mistake they can exercise their prerogative and if the House has made a mistake, call the House's attention to it, can they not?

Mr. BALDWIN. I am frank to say to my friend from Philadelphia that it would probably be obtrusion on the part of any committee to make a report on any matter that was not before them. I would not, as chairman of any committee, come in here and make a report on any subject that was not referred to it by the House and upon which the House have acted and used their own judgment.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the distinguished gentleman who is the Speaker of this body has laid particular stress on the fact that the Rules Committee would make careful inquiry and if it was found in their judgment that this motion or resolution should not be adopted they would report within five days. But we know that the duty of the Rules Committee is to make careful and diligent inquiry in performing its duties for this House. I submit for the consideration of you gentlemen that in passing this resolution if we have made a mistake, it is within the powers of the Rules Committee to do everything that the Speaker has referred to without having this resolution in their custody. Now as to the conditions governing the Appropriation Committee in 1911. In the session of the Legislature of 1911, the same gentleman who so honorably presides over the Appropirations Committee now presided over that committee then. That committee discharged its duties so carefully and so well in 1911 that when they sent the appropriation bills to Governor Tener they had practical information concerning the revenue in hand to such an extent that Governor Tener was not called upon to reduce the appropriation bills and the gentleman who presided over that committee presides over our committee at the present time. This commotion started here is for the purpose of calling your attention away from the fact that we have absolutely wasted four months' time in petty factional party bickering. Had we devoted that time which has beeu wasted in a proper way we would have been further advanced now. If we vote down this resolution there is no assurance that it will not be continued along indefinitely in the same way and not to bring the measures to a focus and to call the attention of the various committees to the speedy performance of their duty, while if a day certain is fixed for adjournment, they will have to wake up and there will be no legislation go through this House, as the Speaker has said, without our knowing all about it and the business will be expedited and we will be able to go home and resume our respective occupations and business.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, it has been brought out in the arguments pro and con that to my mind the House is not prepared at this time to act upon this resolution. A week or ten days ago a resolution was offered in this House setting May 1st as the last day for the introduction of bills. If I am correctly informed, after to-morrow it will require unanimous consent to introduce a bill in this body. Now, then, we are informed this evening that the bill providing an appropriation for the Highway Department has not yet been introduced but perhaps will be reached by to-morrow. Have you thought of the condition that might exist in your locality if you were to go back home after the Legislature adjourns, or in one week from to-morrow, discover that this bill had not been introduced—and there are members in this body whom I don't suppose that Good Roads Resolution affects very much,—but suppose that they would arbitrarily object to the introduction of this bill? Now, then, if you pass this resolution setting May 31st for the final day of adjournment perhaps at that time all the bills that you are interested in will not be reported at that time all the bills that you are interested in will not be reported from committee; perhaps they will die on the calendar. The responsibility will rest with the members who vote to pass this resolution.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, Yes, sir.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia know that in 1913 Governor Tener had to cut his appropriations from fifteen to eighteen million dollars?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, it was 1911, the year I referred to.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman to answer my question. Does the gentleman know that Governor Tener had to cut his appropriations fro mfifteen to eighteen million dollars in 1913? I ask the gentleman is it a fact or is it not a fact?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman's interrogation is not a proper one. My reference was to the session of 1911. If I am wrong in that statement there is no better qualified person than the former chairman of that committee, Mr. Woodward, who is present and can correct me.

Mr. STERN. I don't question the gentleman's statement in regard to 1911,—Did not Governor Tener cut his appropriations from fifteen to eighteen million dollars in 1913, and I ask the gentleman to answer that question?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I don't think I ought to be taken over the category of the various sessions.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman decline to answer the question?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, my statement was in regard to 1911; the interrogation of the gentleman as to 1913 or 1915 or any other session is improper and nobody knows that better than my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, it is another waste of time and useless conversation.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman declines to be interrogated.

Mr. STERN. The gentleman declines to answer but I will ask him whether he knows that the present Governor had to cut his appropiration from one to three million dollars in 1915 because the Legislature did not do its work right.

Mr. McNICHOL. What has that to do with my remarks, inasmuch as the Appropriations Committee did its duty properly in 1911 and there is nothing to stop it doing it in 1917.

Mr. WOODWARD. We would do it if we had the time.

Mr. STERN. Will the gentleman answer my question?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman declines to answer.

Mr. STERN. If the gentleman declines to answer, I would like to state for the information of the House that Governor Tener in 1913 had to cut the appropriations from fifteen to eighteen million dollars.

Mr. EBY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. EBY. The gentleman is not confining himself to the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Chair decides the point is not well taken.

Mr. STERN. In 1915 the present Executive found it necessary to cut the appropriations from two to three million dollars and I think it is contingent on the members of this House to attempt to prevent passing a resolution of this kind. Furthermore, I may suggest that if this resolution was referred to the Rules Committee of the House then that Rules Committee could take this question up with the proper committee of the Senate, because necessarily a resolution of this kind is a joint resolution and both branches have to concur in the day of adjournment. I think it is no more than right that it go to the Rules Committee; I understand that our Rules Committee confers with the proper parties in the Senate.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman how he voted on March 11th on a resolution similar to this resolution?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I voted for the resolution.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Rininger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Rininger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Blair how he voted on this resolution on March 11, 1917.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I voted for it.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. STERN, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, yes sir, and I promise to answer the question.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, if it is not a fact that about the fifth day of April, 1917, a resolution providing for an adjournment was introduced and referred to the Committee on Rules and it is patiently resting there yet?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, that is true.

Mr. RICH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the House.

I would like to know if this House is aware that the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform has not met yet; we have not even organized. The importance of the business before this committee is so great that it would take at least six weeks' work, when we are once organized. Please bear that in mind.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Dunn and Mr. Bennett and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1237 (Senate Bill No. 573), as follows

An Act authorizing the Department of Forestry to purchase surface rights to lands for use as State Forests

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Department of Forestry is hereby authorized to purchase and receive conveyance of surface rights to any lands within this Commonwealth for forestry purposes and to hold such lands as State forests

Section 2 Where the title to any such land is subject to outstanding rights conveying waters minerals oil gas or other valuable deposits or any privileges or reservations whatsoever the Department of Forestry may in its discretion accept conveyance of the surface rights to such lands where the administration of scientific and practical forestry will not be interfered with or made impossible by such outstanding rights privileges or reservations

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if there is any person in the House who can give an explanation of this bill, giving the Forestry Commission the right to purchase land.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the Forestry Committee it seemed to be a pretty good sort of bill. The only thing it does is to allow the Forestry Department to purchase land subject to oil, gas and mineral rights. It was introduced by Senator Phipps for the reason that in some of the western counties of the State it is impossible at the present to purchase land on account of the oil and mineral rights, and this bill will allow the department to do that with the reservations.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Sones,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 424 (Senate Bill No. 9), as follows

An Act to provide for the change of object of the corporate existence of volunteer fire companies and firemen's relief associations connected with volunteer fire departments and authorizing and providing a mode for the dissolution and surrender of the charter of said companies and associations

Whereas In and by the establishment of paid fire departments voluntary fire companies are superceded and as such their services as firemen dispensed with and consequently firemen's relief associations operated in connection with volunteer fire departments are no longer necessary for the relief and protection of said firemen

And whereas Many fire companies and firemen's relief association in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have been incorporated either by the Legislature or by the courts under authority given by law

And whereas Some of the fire companies and relief associations when such paid fire department is established may be desirous of continuing and maintaining their existence as corporations but for a different purpose than the object specified in their charter or act of incorporation whilst others are desirous of disbanding or dissolving and surrendering the powers vested in them by their charters or acts of incorporation and dividing amongst such of their members as may be entitled thereto whatever property or effects they may be seized possessed of or enjoy or the proceeds thereof

And whereas Doubts have arisen whether under any law usage or practice now in force or prevailing in this Commonwealth it is competent for any of the incorporated companies or relief associations to disband or dissolve and divide amongst their members the property effects or proceeds thereof belonging to such corporation or to change the object for which they have been incorporated for the purpose therefore of providing a mode whereby any of the said companies or relief associations may change the object for which they were or have been organized and incorporated or to disband dissolve and surrender the powers and authorities vested in them by virtue of their charter or acts of incorporation by whomsoever granted or allowed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill has been amended, but it still contains the clause which would permit volunteer fire companies to dissolve and divide their property among the individual members. I regret to call the attention of the House to a piece of legislation which has so many good features. It permits fire companies to continue as a club or an association, but when they determine so to do, the members may take the money, or property of the association and sell it, and put the proceeds in their pockets. Now, Mr. Speaker, coming as I do from a town of ten or twelve thousand people which has a volunteed fire department, I know, and I do not think the case is exceptional at all, that all of these contributions come from the public either in the shape of fairs or festivals or donations, or in many other ways, and I also know that the fire companies as a rule have rather strict by-laws and can get rid of members automatically who do not pay their dues. The property contributed to a fire company is virtually contributed for a charitable purpose and ought not to be permitted to be devoted to a private purpose, and that is what this bill would enable them to do.

Mr. WICKMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if it is not a fact that those volunteer fire companies render services for those contributions that they get from the public.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, that is quite true, that they render services, but they render the service because they like it, and the probabilities are that those who render the service would not be those who would participate in the distribution. The public-spirited ones would not dissolve the corporation and put the money in their pockets. It would be those who look upon the fire companies as a means of revenue.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, this bill was before the House some few weeks ago and objection was raised at that time. The bill has been amended to meet most of those objections. It has been amended so that any property or any of the apparatus of a volunteer fire company that has been purchased or given to that company by a borough or municipality remains the property of that borough or municipality, and it is only property and apparatus that has been obtained solely through the efforts of the members of the volunteer company that remains their property. Now there are a great many cases in the State where the members of the company have by their own contributions provided not only the apparatus but have purchased property and erected a building. In addition to that they have devoted their time and services. This bill simply provides that when they are superseded by a paid organization they can continue their corporate existence but for a different purpose; and if they find it is to the best interest to dissolve and distribute the assets of the organization, they must give notice once a week in a paper of general circulation for a period of at least six months, and in the event of any one disagreeing, he has the right of appeal to the court and by mandamus have a proper accounting. It has been amended as I have said to meet the objectionable features put there in the beginning through lack of foresight. If it were possible that property donated by the people of the town could revert back to them, that would be done, but it is impossible to do that and still carry out the purpose of the act, which is to allow these men to have that for which they have worked.

Mr. STRAUSS. Mr. Speaker, with the consent of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich, I had some amendments inserted in regard to firemen's relief associations. Reading will become a city of the second class soon and the volunteer fire department will be a thing of the past. Now in Reading they have in addition, or rather subsidiary to it,—to the volunteer fire department—a relief association in which the members pay their regular assessments and raise the money in other ways, and if a death occurs they pay a dollar apiece for the relief of the family of the member that has died. As to the other objection of my friend from Franklin, Mr. Walter, I want to say that the volunteer fire department of the City of Reading or of any other city in the State has peformed services and amply paid the citizens of Reading or of any other city for the charitable donations made by the citizens of such city to their volunteer fire association, and the citizens are perfectly satisfied that it shoul dbe distributed to the members who remain in good standing, and certainly it is true that this property ought to go to somebody and somebody ought to have possession of it. I hope that my friend from Frankiln, Mr. Walter, will not further press his objections.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, my attention has been called to a typographical error on page four of the bill, and I desire to amend it. I therefore move that the vote by which this vote passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

On page 4, line 14, strike out the word "count" and insert the word "court."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended.

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciaray General.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SPEAKER BALDWIN IN THE CHAIR.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 40, File Folio 2263, from page 3 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 40, entitled

An Act amending an act approved the twelfth day of July Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An Act establishing a court for the County of Philadelphia prescribing the jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the County or City of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof"

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brady.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brady, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRADY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman what is the intent of this bill?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill raises the salary of the judges of the Municipal Court in Philadelphia from six thousand dollars to eight thousand dollars a year.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brady.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brady, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. COX. Mr Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if the judges of that court have made a request for an increase of salary?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, the judges of that court, as far as I know, had the bill prepared, increasing their salaries. The exact amount I would not be able to state but it was considered that a fair amount was from six thousand dollars to eight thousand dollars.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman further if he is not aware that many of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas do not get more than six thousand dollars in the country districts, get less than six thousand dollars?

Mr. BRADY. That may be true in some counties of the State. In adding to my answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia I would like to say that the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia are paid a lower salary than the judges of any Municipal Court of the United States. In the city of Chicago the Municipal Court has seventeen judges; those judges are paid ten thousand dollars a year and the President Judge receives eleven thousand dollars a year.

Now, I think it is considered fair by the people of the City of Philadelphia that a court like the Municipal Court, which has done so much work for the city—it is but fair that the salary of those judges should be commensurate with the work that is done by that court and since Philadelphia is the third largest city in this country I think it but fair that the salary of these judges be almost as high as the salaries of judges of other municipal courts in the country.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further ask the gentleman what salary the judges of the United States District Court get.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that I would ask the gentleman if he knows what salary they get?

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir, they get six thousand dollars.

Mr. SPEAKER, I want to call the House's attention to this particular bill. I remember when this bill was introduced creating this municipal court, they claimed then that this would be a poor man's court, but it costs as much in the City of Philadelphia to institute a suit in the Municipal Court as it does in the Court of Common Pleas and I am just now informed four dollars more. To my mind this court is nothing more than a magistrate's court, and to my mind the judges of this court, while learned in the law, are nothing but refined magistrates in every action that they have had to do with and I do not believe that they are entitled to this increase.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill a question.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brady, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphti if it is not a fact that under the provisions of this bill the State of Pennsylvania pays these judges?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, this is a matter that concerns the whole State. In the County of Allegheny a similar court, the county court, is paid by the county and the court in the City of Philadelphia is paid by the State. It is a fact that many of the judges in this Commonwealth are now receiving but six thousand dollars annually, judges of the Court of Common Pleas; some of them have a tremendous volume of work to do. I do not believe that this House should raise the salary of the judges of this court in Philadelphia. There is no more reason why we should raise their salary than we should raise the salaries of all the rest of the judges in this State and it has only been a few years since we gave them a very substantial raise, the judges of the Court of Common Pleas. It seems to me there is an inequality here that ought not to be recognized by this Legislature. When Allegheny County pays their own judges why should the State that is now paying these judges raise their salaries. I would be against this bill unless shown that there is a demand and a necessity for the raising of their salaries at this time and I think this House should be against the bill.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I believe we are fortunate in the consideration of this bill because of the absence of any real agrument that could be made upon the basis of any factional politics. The Municipal Court of Philadelphia is composed of judges who, if they may be regarded as taking any part in politics at all, have been affiliated with both sides of the political factions in the Republican party and also several of them that have been actively identified with the Democratic party, so that I say fortunately we may discuss this matter without feeling in the off-start that we have anything to apologize for.

The statement has been made by my distinguished friend from Philadelphia that the Municipal Court is nothing more or less than a magistrate's court. That is absolutely an unjust criticism upon the able body of men who comprise that court. These men are learned in the law, to begin with, and they sit from ten o'clock in the morning ofttimes until late in the afternoon, not hearing one or two cases as is frequently the case in the Courts of Common Pleas where the amount involved is of greater consequence, but hearing as high as eight, nine and ten cases a day, and by their manner of treatment ofttimes able to bring about settlements and adjustments of these claims between litigants.

Something has been said with regard to the salaries of judges in other parts of the State. I do not know that I can state with any degree of authority concerning the amount of work done by judges in other parts of the State but I am told and I believe I am reliably informed that many of the judges that get less salaries than our Common Pleas judges have not near the work to do that is to be done by a judge of a city or county like Philadelphia.

Now, when reference was made some years ago to the establishment of what is called a poor man's court it had no reference to the salary of the court. The reference that was made to the poor man's court was this: that little cases that often were misjudged in the magistrate's court and that died there were given a chance to have an expeditions trial in a tribunal where the judges understood the law and where they had twelve men in the jury box to pass upon the issue and determine it. For the further reason that the procedure was made so plain and simple that even a layman with a little reading of the rules of this court might be able to go into court and plead his own case if he did not have the means to employ a lawyer. That is the reason the court is referred to as the poor man's court.

I have not the figures here but this court has passed upon thousands of cases since it has come into existence and while the amounts involved are not as great as the cases which arise in the Courts of Common Pleas, yet, nevertheless, the cases are of as much interest to the people who come there and those small cases require more work and require more time to dispose of the amount and volume of business that goes to that court than the Courts of Common Pleas.

Only a week ago you raised the salaries of the deferees from twenty-five hundred to five thousand dollars. If you are able to do that for referees who pass upon matters of the character that they do, why cannot you with equal justice and fairness raise this two thousand and make it eight thousand dollars and make the amount of salary in accord with the amount of work they actually do?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia who is the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brady, permit himself to the interrogated?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia kindly inform the House how many judges constitute the Municipal Court in Philadelphia?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, we have nine.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I was a member of the House in 1913 when the bill passed, creating this court. I justified my support of this measure on the statement of the sponsor of the bill at that time that it was to supersede the Municipal Court. Further, if that bill was to supersede and do away with the magistrates of Philadelphia, instead of doing away with the magistraes, we still have them and a bill has passed this session increasing their salaries to four thousand dollars a year, and now comes along this bill increasing the salary of the Municipal Court judges to eight thousand dollars. Instead of wiping out the magistrates it seems to have increased their importance.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, as a member of this House I would be the last man to talk on lowering the salary of any man or talk against the increase of the salary of any man when I thought that we were justified in doing it. The members of this House are going to saddle on the City of Philadelphia, by the passage of this bill, an increase of about twenty thousand dollars in increasing the salary of these judges. Only the first of this year the City of Philadelphia increased their taxes on every property owner in that city, to meet current expenses, twenty-five cents on the dollar.

They could not find funds enough to increase the salaries of the common laborers to two dollars a day, or to increase the wages of mechanics until almost three months afterwards when we scraped around and raised the wages of common laborers or mechanics so that they could get along with the high cost of living as it is today. These judges are drawing a salary of six thousand dollars. I have been in the Municipal Courts of Philadelphia and I have seen their work as well as my good friend from Philadelphia. I went last Friday out in the Juvenile Court to see about a case and while I was there there was no judge in the court at all and I inquired why there was no judge there and I understood that the judge of that particular court went to Florida for a couple of weeks and neglected the court over which he presided. We are all reasonable and I think this six thousand dollars at the present time is ample, especially when the City of Philadelphia cannot find funds enough to increase the salaries of their mechanics and laboring men which will require an additional increase in the tax rate.

Mr. PERRY. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, when I get through. Gentlemen, I only wanted to say, in conclusion, that I don't think it is right for the members of this House to vote an increase of the judges' salaries or anybody else when they have not money to pay their laborers at the present time, and I understand that next year in order to meet the current expenses, they must increase the tax rate again on the property owners, and they are the ones who must suffer. I am willing at any time when the money is there to increase a man's salary who is honestly entitled to it. But it is unfair at this time to increase a man's salary who is getting six thousand to eight thousand dollars. I undersand that many of the judges throughout the State are not getting any more than that. They are no better, in Philadelphia, than your judges in the country who do just as much work, or more, than the gentlemen who sit on the bench in the City of Philadelphia and this additional cost is unnecessary.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Dunn.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman what the tax rate of Philadelphia has to do with the Municipal Court Judges of Philadelphia, who are paid by the State?

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I think the City of Philadelphia pays their salary. Let him go down and study the law.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to correct an error by Mr. Wallace, that the County Court Judges of Allegheny County which correspond to the Municipal Court Judges of Philadelphia, are paid by the County of Allegheny. They are paid by the State of Pennsylvania, the same as the Municipal Court Judges of Philadelphia.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I have listened to some statements regarding the Municipal Court Judges of Philadelphia in reference to their conduct, which I venture to say are without much foundation, but to give you an idea of what an eminent citizen of this Republic thinks of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia after he spent a day or two in them, I will quote to you the words of Colonel Roosevelt. He said: "I have been immensely impressed by what I have seen in this court. I hope to be able to translate some things I have seen here today so as to make the people understand that if there are some things we have reason to be discontented with in this country, there are also many things we have every reason to be more than proud of and one of them is the kind of work being done here." In other words, the opinion of almost every authority in the United States is that the work done by the Municipal Court of Philadelphia is second to none. In other words, it is a model, especially with regards to this misdemianants court and especially as to its treatment of orphan children and misdirected children and compares favorably to any other court in this land.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to have an explanation of the purport of this bill before I record my vote for it.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Martin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to have an explanation as to the purport and desire for such a bill as this to be passed in the Senate of Pennsylvania?

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. President, this bill was given to me by the President Judge of the Municipal Court. The bill provides for the support of illegitimate children and I think is a proper bill and should be passed at this time. I think the Senator from Philadelphia knows as much about it, if not more, than I do myself.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, no, I do not.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. President, Mr. Brown told me he had spoken to you. I am not at all interested, but I think it is for the benefit of the children.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I certainly have all the respect and regard for the welfare of the unfortunate children, but the limit and the extent to which such a bill as this might be incorporated upon the citizenship of this State is so far reaching I think it is time this Senate will at least consider just how far reaching this bill is and I therefore ask that the bill be postponed for the present, if it is satisfactory to the Senator from Philadelphia.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. President, I have no objection.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Sproul, what this bill is?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Sproul, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I will. I would say in answer to the question of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, that the Constitution with regard to banking institutions imposes certain restrictions respecting the chartering of banks. This amendment to the Constitution proposes in a very brief way that the General Assembly can from time to time, in view of changed conditions, pass laws for the purpose of chartering or organizing banks, such changes being necessary if banks chartered by the Commonwealth are to be able to compete with those chartered by the Federal Reserve Act of the Federal government. It simply makes the banking laws of the Commonwealth more broad than they are and allows the Legislature itself to fix the conditions under which banks may be chartered.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. S. G. Zerfass, offered the following prayer:

Our Father in Heaven, we want to learn the lesson of trust and ought never be afraid. Thou carest for the birds, feeding them surely. Thou more surely feed Thy children. Thou dost clothe the flowers in all their wondrous beauty; Thou wilt more surely clothe us; yea, Thou knowest what we need. Always Thine eye is upon us. Yet we do not always trust Thee. Again and again little things worry and vex us. We are fearful in the presence of human needs, being afraid of sickness, of sorrows, of temptations. We should not be disturbed in our confidence. We want to learn to confide in Thee. Teach us how to do it and make known all our anxieties to Thee. Give us Thy peace, Thy deep and holy peace, which nothing can break, and may it abide in us forever. Amen.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1026, entitled

An Act to amend the second section of an act approved the twenty-third day of April, one thousand nine hundred and nine, entitled "An Act making it a misdemeanor for any president, vice-president, cashier, treasurer, secretary, teller, bookkeeper, clerk, employe, or agent of any mutual savings bank, savings bank, bank of discount and deposit, trust company, title insurance company, surety company, or safe deposit company, incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth; or of any private bank or unincorporated association, receiving deposits of money; or of any building and loan association, incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth, or authorized to do business therein; his or their aiders and abettors, to embezzle, abstract or wilfully misapply any of the moneys, funds, or credits of such institution; or to issue certificates of deposit, draw any order or bill of exchange, make any acceptance, assign any note, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment, or other instrument in writing, without authority from the directors of such institution, with intent to deceive or defraud; or to make a false entry in the books, reports or statements thereof, with like intent; prescribing penalties, and authorizing the Banking Commissioner to institute prosecutions."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the proponent of this bill will be good enough to explain it. Under the old act which it is proposed to amend the Banking Commissioner was required to institute prosecutions for violations of the act. Under the new bill, the Banking Commissioner "may," if he so desires, institute proceedings. I would like an explanation of this bill if the proponent pleases.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, in answer to my friend from Montgomery, I desire to say that this request came from the Banking Department. Under the law as it now exists, the Banking Commissioner is required to institute proceedings against any person employed by a bank, trust company or savings institution in case of false entry, be it intentional or not. The act provides that it must be intentional in order that the Commissioner of Banking shall institute proceedings. It makes him the judge and the jury. It was thought by the Commissioner of Banking that the word "may" should be substituted so as to give him the right to exercise discretion in certain cases.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Dell,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate, with information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1235 (Senate Bill No. 562), entitled

An Act authorizing boroughs to assess the cost of the improvement or reconstruction of certain state highways in certain cases upon the property abutting the line of improvement and providing for the collection of such assessments.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS: Mr. Speaker, I object to a clause in this bill which states, on page 1, File Folio 929, on line 7, "such borough may in its discretion by ordinance duly passed and published before the work is commenced assess all or any part of the borough's share of such joint expense on the owners of the property abutting." I think this is a very unjust measure. I just issued my check a short time ago for $480 for one-third portion of a street abutting upon my property. To pass a measure right here stating that I must add to it one-half of the other one-third is absurd and unreasonable. This is a very unjust measure and should not receive the support of this House. It is not fair, it is not just.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to explain it to the House.

Mr. WEST. Mr. Speaker, this bill is for the purpose of changing Sproul Route 240 between Dewart and Montgomery. At the time the road was first laid out, it ran up over the hill, a very steep hill, to the west, crossed the river and across to Montgomery. The county is now erecting a bridge at Montgomery across the river, and this road runs along by the side of the river, a level road, which it is proposed to put on the map. It shortens the route by about a mile, and a half and it is all on the level.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Aron.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 31 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 94, File Folio 2009.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 94, entitled

An Act to amend section two of an act approved the sixth day of February one thousand eight hundred four entitled "An Act to provide for the creation of a house for the employment and support of the poor in the County of York" (Pamphlet Laws sixty-five) by regulating the term and election of directors of the poor.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill—

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, my question is, might I at this time be permitted to challenge the constitutionality of this act?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman mean during the discussion?

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, to be settled by the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, has the floor.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill is a special bill for York County. It has been duly advertised as provided by law. It is an amendment to the Poor House Act of York County passed one hundred and thirteen years ago. It amends the act of 1804, and it is a companion bill to the Poor House Act that was passed and was signed by the Governor at the beginning of the session. The measure provides, that York County shall have a minority representative on the Poor Board. At the present time under our old act, which is more than one hundred years old, we have so such provision. This act when it becomes a law will give York County a minority representative on the Poor Board, and it will extend the time of the present minority representative, whose term expires in 1918, two years. In 1920 the three directors will then be nominated and elected. Mr. Speaker we have had a very peculiar position in the County of York in relation to our poor district. I might say that it has been scandalous on many occasion. Prior to the installation of Mr. Landis as a director of the poor, things had reached such a state that although the county was overwhelmingly democratic, a republican poor director was elected, and that man has done more to bring about reforms in the poor district of York County than any man in the last twenty-five years. Mr. Speaker, prior to the election of the Poor Board in 1914, just on the eve of election when they were about to purchase lands and to erect buildings at a cost of probably $500,000 in York County, the board controlled by one faction, by one clique, in York County, held a star chamber session at five o'clock in the evening, when they realized that a new director was coming into their midst. What did they do? They passed a resolution selecting one architect, who is their special pet, and they gave his carte blanche to go ahead and erect an expensive structure, and to avoid entanglement and bring the whole question of the county almshouse before the people of York in a fair and just way my first measure was introduced. Now we have a poor board consisting of two members of one party and one member of another party. The one man, the minority representative, the one that I have spoken about, has introduced reforms of a character that I might mention here. In the first place in 1914 the year that Mr. Landis was elected, the cost of conducting the poor affairs of York County amounted to over $65,000. In 1916, although the cost of medicine, the cost of supplies, the cost of everything was very much increased the cost of upkeep of the Poor Board of York County was only $44,149.28.

Mr. Speaker, prior to the election of Mr. Landis on the Poor Board of York County, our minority representative, the Board at that time purchased, without consultation with anybody whatsoever, a farm known as the Jacobs farm, for $28,000, which was assessed at twelve thousand dollars. Second, when they could not take that farm because the man, Mr. Jacobs, became more or less conscience stricken, they purchased the Sprenkle farm and paid twenty-eight thousand two hundred and seventy-five dollars, which farm was assessed in 1916 at only eleven thousand five hundred twenty dollars. They further than that, prior to the installation of our minortiy representative, when they handed out the poor relief, jotted the matter down on an ordinary pencil tablet, that permitted all kinds of fraud and all kinds of raising of the orders, so that the county was compelled to pay for things it never authorized. When we had a minority representative on that board, what did he do? He established a check system, so that every article contracted for, every order given, was properly checked up and properly accounted for, and that is why we have had a reduction in the expenses of the administration of the Poor Board of York County, because we have instituted a system of checks and balance as it should be. Now the gentleman from York, when the former bill was before this House, wanted us to repeal the act, and go back to the act of 1879, which is a general act. If we had gone back to the act of 1879 we would have had a minority representative on the Board of County Commissioners, but the reason we did not repeal our local act at this time was because when we built an almshouse down in York County, and purchased an expensive site for the same, which will probably entail an expenditure of a large sum of money, we believe, and the judges of our county believe, and the citizens of our county believe there should be proper checks upon the purchase of real estate, the letting of the contracts, the purchasing of supplies and upon all the myriad and diverse questions that arose incident to the purchase and construction of an almshouse in York County.

It would be a crime to the people of York County to permit this bill to fail and to permit the old conditions to go on there without any means of bringing to account the men who have the control of such important work as that pertaining to the directors of the poor. Our whole government is devised upon a system of checks and balances, and you and I and everybody know that unless a form or system or regulation does not have the proper check to regulate its expenditures, to call it to account for its indiscretions, it only means a short time before corruption creeps in and extravagance becomes rampant, and that has been the condition in York County for a period of almost fifty years. I regret to bring this House the scandals existing in York County.

With respect to the constitutionality of the act, the question which the gentleman from York has raised, Mr. Speaker, the question has been decided over and over again, and was decided by this House when they passed my first act at the very beginning of the session. The only other question that enters into it is the question of the extension of the term of a director of the poor now holding office. In regard to that let me quote from some of our best authorities, the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania. "As to offices which are legislative only, and not constitutional, the power which created them may abolish or change them at pleasure, without impinging upon any constitutional right of the possessor of the office, and without violating any duty of the legislative body." That is from the Commonwealth ex rel. vs. Weir, 165 Pa. 288. In other words, any office that the Legislature of Pennsylvania in its wisdom creates, it can abolish, it can regulate, or it can extend at its will. I feel that it is unnecessary for me to cite authority after authority. That same position has been held in Commonwealth vs. McCombs, 56 Pa. 436. That same position has been held in Loyd vs. Smith, 215 Pa. 221. That same position has been held in the Commonwealth vs. Moir, 199 Pa. 542, and in Pittsburgh's Petition, 217 Pa. 239. We have under our act of 1911, when we established elections for county or municipal officers and for State officers, extended the term of practically all of our municipal officers in the State of Pennsylvania. In 1913 when we passed the act known as the Clark Act, we extended the terms of the mayors of the third class cities, and we have extended terms time out of memory, in which instances our actions have been fully upheld by the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania. Now, gentlemen, I hope you will not permit yourselves, to be beclouded by the fictitious arguments that this bill is unconstitutional. What we are asking for is what we know to be for the best interests of York County, to be a preventative of fraud, and to be an incentive to honest administration; and when the gentleman tries to becloud the issue and say that this beneficial act is unconstitutional, he tries to defeat that which we believe to be for the best interests and welfare of all the people of York County.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, it is very discouraging to me to interrupt the tranquil relations that have existed with the gentlemen from York County. We of the White Rose territory are well known for our good temperament towards each other, but on this question I feel that although I am of the minority, I am largely in the majority on the question of what is right and what is principle. I do not know anything of the sterling virtue of Mr. Landis, the present director of the poor; in fact, I am sorry to confess that I do not know the gentleman; but I do know that if his record is as good as it is represented to be—and perhaps it is—at the same time there are two other members on that board with him who are Democrats, and he could not, nor could they have done those things themselves. There was some co-operation, and, Mr. Speaker, I trust that the House will indulge me when I say that I must make one sweeping denial of the scandalous charges to which he has referred, and then drop the dirty linen if a minority member is needed, I have no knowledge that the people of York County desire that this sort of a method be resorted to. If this gentleman who was elected as a member of that board possesses the sterling qualities which my good colleague represents to you he possesses, then I am sure that the people of York County will recognize this and he need have no hesitancy in coming forward this fall to be re-elected.

Mr. Speaker, I want you to pardon me for these remarks and I trust the House will understand that I am only answering the arguments and charges put forward by my friend and I am doing it in the best of nature and in the kindliest spirit.

As to the constitutionality of this act, Mr. Speaker, he stated the act was properly advertised and in that he admits that it is a piece of special legislation. I have consulted more than a score of attorneys in the State of Pennsylvania and I have not found one man who has not told me unqualifiedly that this act is constitutional.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Lanius?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from York, Mr. Lanius, desire to be interrogated?

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, when I have finished.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, my friend from York refers to the fact that it is within the power of the Legislature to abolish or to change any office which they have created. Mr. Speaker, I call the attention of the House to this fact: That in 1913 this body created the office of county controller in counties of less than one hundred and fifty thousand. They were elected the year of 1913, and, as the act, as I recall it, stated for the term of two years; and at the expiration of those two years the county controllers in those various and several counties described that bill became candidates for re-election, our own controller being among the number; but there was one man in Chester County, I believe, who took issue and said that it made no difference what this act of the Legislature said, that the Constitution said that four years meant four years and that he was elected for the term of four years and he intended to stay there. Mr. Speaker, it is a well known fact that the Supreme Court of this State has decreed that the election of 1915 has been void and those controllers, including our own, are now candidates for re-election—in other words, the 1913 term is just expiring.

Mr. Speaker, when the Clark Act was before us I called the attention of the House to the fact that the Clark Act was properly designated or described or drawn up to suit the peculiar conditions of third class cities. It was a general act; it was not intended to affect a certain municipality or one particular instance. I cannot conceive in my mind that after reading the Constitution and knowing of the 1909 amedment that my friend can insist that this act is within that Constitution.

Mr. Speaker, in 1910, Edward Zortman, of York County, then Director of the Poor, was serving the last year of what he supposed to be the third year of his term. The question arose in 1910, being started by E. O. Slosser, of York County, as to whether the amendment of 1909 applied to York County because of this particular act and the case was taken into the county court of York County and His Honor John Bittinger, decided that we were operating under a special act, if you please, and decided that Mr. Zortman's term expired, according to the rules of this act which my friend now seeks to amend and he said that the Constitutional amendment did not affect York County. In accordance with the dictate of the York County court, Mr. Zortman became a candidate, he was nominated and elected in 1910, and in 1911 the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania set aside the verdict of the York County court and declared the election of 1910, so far as Mr. Zortman was concerned, was void, that it was null: and the result was that Mr. Zortman, in 1911, as my friend well knows, again was nominated and elected and served his term out, finishing in 1915.

Mr. Speaker, this act says we shall elect one Poor Director each year and he shall serve a term of three years and I say to you that this Supreme Court decree changed that act and we elect now two in one odd year and one in the other. This act is not in operation; it is obsolete; in fact, it has been repealed by the Constitutional amendment of 1909 because we no longer elect a man in each year for the term of three years but in the one odd year, as I have said, we elect two directors and in the other we elect one; for instance, in 1915 we elected two men and in 1917 we should elect one and in 1919 we should elect two again. That goes to prove conclusively that the Supreme Court does not take the side of this act which the gentleman who has introduced it does.

As to the question of extension of term, if you are going to admit that the office of Poor Director is a county affair, if you are going to admit that, then you have got to say that under the Constitution, as it exists to-day, that one county is on the same basis as another and you cannot legislate for York County and not for the rest unless you have them properly scheduled in units of population; and, Mr. Speaker, this act applies to York County and to York County alone more than it applies to any one county, more than it applies to the sixty-seven counties, and I leave it to the intelligent men of this House, aside from party lines, to stand back of the Constitution and to search out in their own heart and their own mind what is right and proper.

Mr. Speaker, I declare to you and this House that I have no interest in this act from any political conviction but I am concerned in upholding the Constitution of Pennsylvania and I could not vote for this act, not with the belief in my heart that it is unconstitutional. That is my firm conviction and I do not believe that this act will ever be placed upon the statute books. I believe that my friend is earnest, but, alas, ambition has run away with him.

But we will leave the House decide this question and I trust in deciding it they will search out their hearts and their minds and they will not ignore the fact that while we are talking about crises and about patriotism and constitutionalities, that we have a Constitution of our own in the State of Pennsylvania and that every man in this House has a concern to protect and uphold that Constitution.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to delay the House but I would like to call your attention to the fact that the gentleman from York has not mentioned a single case to prove this bill is unconstitutional. I have a brief here that I will be glad to submit to him, or to the House or any member of the House as to the constitutionality of this measure and I think everybody will agree that the Legislature has the right and the power to extend or even to abolish the term of an office that it created. That is one of the well settled principles of law. It does not require a lot of digging into huge volumes to discover that and I think every lawyer in the House will bear me out in this contention.

So far as the locality of this law is concerned, it is a local act. We are governed in York County by a special Poor Act and the reason we do not repeal this act at this particular time is, as I have said before, because we want to have a proper system of checks and balances upon the expenditure of money that we are going into. This is a great big project that is going to cost five hundred thousand dollars. If we had accepted the act of 1879, the general act, we would have no restriction or restraint on the expenditure of this money and after this expenditur has been made under the proper supervision provided we may be satisfied, if necessary, to have this act repealed, but until this project is completed we want to see that it is honestly completed; we want to see that the County of York gets dollar for dollar; and we feel, by having a minority representative as a member of the board now who will help to make the contracts and purchase the ground and will be in consultation with the members of our court who have a veto power under the act, and as I explained at the beginning of this session that that man is upon the Poor Board at this time.

And, therefore, I ask you gentlemen, in all fairness, to pass this bill and give us a fair and an honest opportunity to conduct our almshouse in the way that all honest and law-abiding citizens would care to have it.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I was under the impression that it was peculiarly the province and monopoly of one particular faction in Philadelphia to come here to seek political advantage. I think we have all heard enough of this question this morning and it has taken enough of our time. I, therefore, move the previous question.

Mr. LAUCKS. Mr. Speaker, we have listened to the wrangling and arguments of the different factions for four months and I think the House should indulge me for just a few minutes longer in listening to the wrangling between the members representing York County. It is indeed embarrassing to me to represent one black spot upon the map of Pennsylvania. According to what my colleague on the other side has said, York County is the most corrupt county in the State of Pennsylvania. Of course, I don't agree with him but he has a right to express his opinion. He places special emphasis—

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Laucks, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAUCKS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether I cast any aspersions upon your county?

Mr. LAUCKS. Mr. Speaker, perhaps not upon York County but upon the administration.

Mr. SPANGLER. Did I cast any aspersions upon the administration of York County prior to the installation of Landis as Poor Director?

Mr. LAUCKS. Mr. Speaker, he did not say, specifically, that conditions in York County were bad or that its administration was corrupt, but his method of discussing the subject was to leave that impression. The impression was left that York County was controlled by Democrats and generally regarded as corrupt so that the thought that my colleague from York left was to this effect, with the members of this body. If that was not his intention I wish to apologize to my colleague from York. He placed special emphasis upon a system of checks and balances, stating that if there is a minority representative on the Poor Board, the fact that there is a check will result in political purity, while if there is not a check it will result in political corruption. In York County as well as in other counties we have two parties and if the affairs of York County were conducted in such a manner that it was obnoxious to the people of the county let them do just exactly as they did when they elected Mr. Landis. Let them re-elect Mr. Landis and then we will have a minority representation. Why is it necessary for any person, whether he be a member of this Legislature, or anybody else from York County, to ask this Legislature to take a man bodily and place him in a position where he can act as a minoirty representative; where perhaps a majority would not want him. My colleague certainly knows that the mere fact that a man belongs to one party or another does not put him in such places that he will act as a check upon members of another party. His own experience, as well as the experience of every member here is this: That when it is necessary to do something the minority member even though he bears a different brand will simply step over and join hands with the member of the majority party. That is the easiest thing in the world to do.

It has been done thousands of times and the mere fact that there is a minority representative will not prevent collusion. In this case I do not mean to say that there will be collusion but, in general, the mere fact that there is a minority representative will certainly not prevent collusion. If they want to do something crooked they will do it at any rate whether they are members of one party or members of different parties. In regard to the constitutionality of this measure, a great deal has been said. In fact, so much has been said on this subject by my colleague, Mr. Lanius, that I think it is unnecessary for me to say anything more, but I merely wish to call your attention to section 7 of Article 3 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, where it says, "The General Assembly shall not pass any local or special law regulating the affairs of counties, cities, townships, etc." I take it from that that the Constitution forbids any special legislation of any kind in regard to the regulation of the affairs of counties. Section 8 provides, "No local or special bill shall be passed unless it is properly advertised, etc." That section applies to such bills as the one introduced by my colleague when he presented a measure for the protection of fox in York County. This is not a bill similar in any way to the gentleman's fox bill. This is a bill regulating the affairs of counties. In that same clause, in that same section, it provides also, for laws in regard to cities. I am not able to cite any particular case as applied to counties, but I do recall that there was a case, and I think that case was Wheeler against Philadelphia, where the Supreme Court specifically decided that in order to pass any law applying to a smaller number than all of the different cities of the State it was necessary to classify. The bill presented by my colleague, makes no attempt whatever to classify. It merely provides for York County and no other county which is special legislation prohibited by Article 3, Section 7 of the Constitution. Gentlemen of this House, if you pass this bill you will be doing nothing else than foisting upon York County a piece of special legislation. What will be the result? It will be this: That some one will be obliged to contest it. Who will pay the bill? York County. Gentlemen, I ask you in all fairness to vote down this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. RICH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 32, of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, Senate Bill No. 650 (House Bill No. 1243), File Folio 1189.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1243 (Senate Bill No. 650), entitled

An Act making an appropriation to A. K. Cassel for services rendered as deputy commissioner in the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RICH. Mr. Speaker, last week when this bill was up I asked that it be postponed as I thought I had discovered an error in the calculation of the interest, but I was in error as the bill is twenty-four years old instead of thirteen years old. The interest calculations are correct so I withdrew my objections and called it up for a vote.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Chestnut,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. WICKMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 33 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 1152, File Folio 2129.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1152, entitled

An Act providing that persons, associations and corporations owning, occupying or controlling premises upon which any contractor or sub-contractor shall be permitted to do certain classes of construction work shall be liable for the wages of all employes engaged in such work and for the cost of all materials supplied for such work unless the contractor or sub-contractor shall file a bond for the immediate payment of wages and the cost of material when due; providing that a contractor shall be liable for the wages of employes of any sub-contractor and for the cost of materials furnished to any sub-contractor unless such sub-contractor shall file a bond covering the same; requiring every such contractor or sub-contractor to file a bond; specifying the form and amount of such bond; and permitting persons furnishing labor or materials to sue in such bond to recover wages and the cost of such materials.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain it.

Mr. WICKMAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill might truthfully be called a piece of humane legislation. It is drawn in the interest of the working people of this State. Time and time again in the past poor working men have been swindled out of their daily wages by unscrupulous and crooked contractors and sub-contractors. Now this bill aims to prevent that. Those men have appealed to the courts of the State and the courts declared that there is no remedy on the statute books for their cases. Now, gentlemen, they come to the Legislature and ask you to supply the remedy. This is the only thing we can do. This bill was drawn by one of the best authorities on constitutional law and I think it is constitutional. You can readily understand the plight a man is in that has to depend on his daily wages to buy bread for his family, when he comes home without the necessary money to buy these necessities of life. You can understand the plight he is in, and I solicit the support of every member of the House for this bill.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Wickman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Wickman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WICKMAN. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, if this act becomes a law, will not the owner of real estate be responsible for all the wages, for all labor performed upon that real estate, whether the work is done by the day or by a contractor or a sub-contractor, unless a bond is filed.

Mr. WICKMAN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the bill he would be responsible for the wages of labor performed, if he does not compel the contractor or the sub-contractor to furnish a bond.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman further, and ask if there is no limit as to the value of the amount of work to be performed, that is, as to the largeness or smallness of the amount of work performed upon the real estate?

Mr. WICKMAN. No, sir.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, while the main idea of this bill may be entirely proper, it seems to me that it is putting an undue hardship upon the owner of property. As I understand the bill—if I understand it correctly—if the owner of any real estate were to have any work at all performed on his real estate he would be responsible to the person performing the same unless he required a bond to be filed. In other words, if it is necessary to have your plumbing fixed, a small job, you would have to see that the man who performs the service actually gets his wages; or if you were to have a room papered, or any minor improvements made, it is necessary to see that the man who performs the work receives his money, or else the act requires a man to put up a bond, whether the work is a five dollar, a hundred dollar, or a five hundred dollar job. It seems to me it is going too far, with the law so well established on this question of the liability of the contractor or subcontractor.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to inform the gentleman that he is laboring under a great misapprehension. The object of the act is not for the purpose of depriving any man of his rights on his own property. The act provides that the contractor or subcontractor may file his bond, which is entirely proper, and it leaves the owner of the real estate in the position that he is to-day, except that the filing of the bond protects the owner of the real estate, as well as the man who is working for the wage. In large cities—and it also applies in small cities—contracts are entered into for the erection of numerous houses or other buildings, and the contractor may or may not file a bond, but in this act he is compelled, in order to protect whom? Mr. Wickman says the man who is the wage earner. It not only protects the wage earner, but the court holds him to his bond and it protects, Mr. Speaker, the very man having the work done, namely—the owner of that real estate. This is a splendid piece of legislation, and should be passed by this House.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to oppose any bill unjustly, and if I am laboring under a misapprehension of the bill, I certainly do not want to oppose it; but as I have read it, it seems to me to be a little drastic. Consequently I would ask the sponsor of this bill to postpone the bill for a short time in order that we might investigate it and find out exactly what this bill is.

Mr. WICKMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that I cannot comply with the request of my friend, Mr. Siggins, but if there is any amending to be done, it should be done in the Senate. I must refuse the request.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 901, File Folio 2517, from page 32 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 901, entitled

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section seventeen of article two of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this joint resolution proposes to amend section seventeen of article two of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. I do not think that this resolution requires any argument. We have here an assembly consisting of two hundred and seven members, all of whom are interested in this resolution, including those who expect to remain at home, as well as those who desire to return. My purpose in this resolution is to have the House reduced to such a body that we may be able, or the Speaker may be able to avoid the occurrences that take place here day after day, hour after hour, and month after month; and avoid the necessity of delaying the progess of this body by having the Speaker use the gavel about one half of the time. This ought to be—it should be a conservative body of men, representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and not a social gathering. If you want a social gathering you can have it at home or abroad, either one, but when you come into this House you come here for the purpose of legislating in behalf of your constituents in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. You cannot and should not receive any credit for conducting a social gathering. The only example to copy is in the other end of the building, a Senate consisting of fifty members. You cannot witness any instances of this kind or character over there. If you reduce this body to double the number of the Senate we can expect more conservative work, better work, and the use of more and better judgment, of calm, cool and deliberate men as representatives of this Commonwealth. We have a census that will come in 1920, followed by an apportionment, and when that is done the number in this House will be increased, thereby necessitating an increase in the size of this floor and the number of chairs in this House. Is that necessary, is a question I submit to you. There is a second proposition that I wish to submit to you, and without going into an argument of the proposition—I will not read a line of it, for I do not like to read in public—I submit to you the Auditor General's Report for the year ending November 30, 1916, as my second argument for asking for a reduction in the number of this House. You take that book and you can glance over it, for the multiplication and addition and subtraction are all done, and it simply resolves itself into a simple question of addition, and the figures are here for you. Take the expense of the two hundred and seven members of this House; take the expense of the printing and binding, the paper and stationery, the extra expense of the number of men that you keep here in your employ in this House; glance over the figures and you will find that you will save, by the resolution being carried and the constitution being amended, about one half a million dollars. You have heard a great deal said about housecleaning. You have heard it and so have I. I believe in beginning at home, in your own room. Let us clean house here and go down through this auditor's report and through the other departments in this capitol building on this hill, and I venture to say that you will save the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania about three times one half a million of dollars, or over. It is your duty, and it is a question that I believe the honest and honorable and considerate gentlemen of this House, who are here to represent constituents at home and repersent the Commonwealth as a whole, will stand by and consider when they vote upon this resolution.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Davis.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Powell, desires to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Davis.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Very well, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from Cambria to make the statement that he believed in cleaning house?

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. POWELL. Then I move you, Mr. Speaker, that we commence to clean house by wiping this bill off the calendar.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Powell, evidently must have some fear of being wiped off the calendar at home.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was not agreed to.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 33 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 1238 (Senate Bill No. 581), File Folio 937.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1238 (Senate Bill No. 581), entitled

An Act empowering certain corporations societies and voluntary associations having subordinate lodges or branches within this Commonwealth to change the location of their principal office or place of business and providing for the approval by the Court of Common Pleas and the filing of notice of such changes.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to give us a brief survey of what its provisions cover.

The SPEAKER. This is a Senate bill. Is there anybody here who can give an explanation of it?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, this bill authorizes a corporation not for profit, for the sole benefit of its members and beneficiaries, to change the location of its principal office from one county to another upon first securing the approval of the Court of Common Pleas of the county where the office is situated and upon filing in the office of the county where it is now situate and in the office of the county to which it proposes to remove, and in the office of the Insurance Commissioner, a notice that such change has been made. An exact copy of this bill was passed at the session of 1915 with the exception that this bill did not provide for the approval of the Court of Common Pleas. The Governor vetoed it on that account and that has been inserted to meet the objection of the Governor. Under the present conditions I cannot see how there can be any objection to this bill because before a corporation not for profit, and created by the court, can make a change the corporation must first approve the change itself, the Court of Common Pleas of the county must approve it and proper notice must be given. It somestimes happens that fraternal or beneficial corporations having subordinate lodges, that the membership so changes that it becomes desirable to change the office from one county to another, Hence I take it that power should be granted under proper restrictions which are contained in this bill.

I might add further that corporations for profit can make such a change by action of the corporation itself but in this class of corporations, created by the court, in addition to the acts of the corporation itself the Court of Common Pleas must approve of the change.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the act which we are about to consider does not only empower a change of place for beneficial societies but also for corporations, all corporations. Now, there is no law upon the statute books of Pennsylvania allowing the change of corporations from one main seat to another place and to do that upon approval the Court of Common Pleas or in any other manner.

This bill, Mr. Speaker, is a matter of legislation to clear up a point which happens to be before the Supreme Court touching this very question. On the face of it, it seems entirely proper, but the whole thing was tried out and at the time of the hearing of this argument the Supreme Court objected strenuously, or showed by their manner, to the idea of a change which would make it a migratory affair. The minute a corporation with its seat of business at one place does not like it any more there they can pack up and get out; they can avoid service in cities or in counties by getting away in time to do it; and the bill is proposed for the purpose of clearing up a matter in issue which happens to be bofore your Supreme Court at this time and allowing them, where it is to their benefit, to get away from where they are into another jurisdiction and that is why I ask you to vote "no" on the bill.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is slightly mistaken in some of his remarks. It is true that it is a question as to whether these corporations have the power to change their office at the present time by permission of the Court of Common Pleas and there is a case pending in which that question is involved; but in order to remove that doubt and in order to give express power for the making of such a change this bill is prepared and I say again, I would not see how any objection can be made to it, when the members of the corporation first themselves decide that the change should be made and the court of the county in which it is situate, after a hearing, says it should be made. Isn't everybody protected?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman when he first addressed this House if he did not say that the bill which had been vetoed by the Governor did not contain a provision that the Court of Common Pleas should pass upon the change.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I did so say.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I now desire to read from the Governor's veto message on that bill.

"Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

"Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 7, 1915.

"I file herewith, in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, with my objections, House Bill No. 49, entitled 'An Act empowering certain corporations, societies, and voluntary associations, having subordinate lodges or branches within this Commonwealth, to change the location of their principal office or place of business, and providing for the filing of notice of such changes.'

"This bill empowers certain corporations, societies, and voluntary associations, having branches in this Commonwealth, to change the location of their principal office or place of business. The effect of this bill would be to authorize Courts of Common Pleas in one county to make corporations it authorizes have their business in another place, over which said court has no jurisdiction. It would also enable the corporation, upon its own initiative, to locate in a county other tahn that in which its charter was granted.

"It is questionable in law whether a court of the one county can authorize a change by which a corporation may be domiciled within the jurisdiction of another court (see 216 Pa. 630). Under many decisions of the court it is manifest that a corporation has no power to change its place of business from one county to another.

"This bill would enable corporations of the kind defined to move at will, resulting in confusion, lack of responsibility, and general disadvantage to the people concerned.

"For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH."

Now, I ask the gentleman from Allegheny to explain the difference between then and now.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I did not catch the gentleman's question.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I inquired of the gentleman whether he did not say when he first referred to this bill that the change from the 1915 bill had been made which change allowed the Court of Common Pleas in the counties to say or approve of the removal from one county to another.

Mr. McVICAR. I said that the bill which passed the House and Senate in 1915 is a copy of the bill now before you except that that bill did not provide for procuring the permission of the Court of Common Pleas of the county.

I say further, also, that I consulted the Executive Department of this government as to the reason of the veto of that act and I found out the reason of that veto was because he thought there should be a provision by which the Court of Common Pleas would approve of the change and he prepared an amendment to that bill so as to meet the change he desired and that amendment or change is inserted in the bill which is now before you.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A Joint Resolution petitioning the government of the United States and the Secretary of War to rescind or modify the order of the Department of War requiring the raising of certain bridges over the Allegheny River.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. J. FRANK GRAFF. Mr. President, representing a district as I do lying along the Allegheny river, which county and which district is supposed to be affected by this act of the War Department in requesting these bridges to be raised, I cannot help but oppose this resolution. I do not think it amounts to anything because the War Department, as I understand, intends suspending this rule for the present, but when you take into consideration the mineral wealth that lies along the Allegheny River, and we have already a number of dams and have awaiting us an appropriation of three hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of improving this river, it seems to me it is out of place for this Legislature to go on record here as against this requirement of the War Department, and therefore I am opposed to this resolution. They have had a number of hearings in Pittsburgh and both sides have been represented and I feel this resolution should not pass.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McKEE. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. WHITTEN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

He also laid before the Senate communication from Mr. William P. Gallagher, Assistant Clerk of the Senate, which was read as follows:

Harrisburg, Pa., May 2, 1917.

Hon. Frank B. McClain, President of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir: I hereby tender my resignation as Assistant Clerk of the Senate of Pennsylvania to take effect on Monday, May 7th, 1917.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. GALLAGHER.

ELECTION OF CHIEF CLERK AND ASSISTANT CLERK.

Mr. McKEE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McKEE offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That William P. Gallagher, of Wilkes-Barre, Luzerne County, be elected Chief Clerk of the Senate of Pennsylvania, vice Honorable Harmon M. Kephart, resigned; and that Harry A. Bartenslager, of Uniontown, Fayette County, be elected Assistant Clerk of the Senate, vice William P. Gallagher, resigned, the same to become effective Monday, May seventh, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen.

The PRESIDENT. I therefore declare the persons named in the resolution as having been elected to the respective positions named therein.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH TO ADMINISTER THE OATH OF OFFICE TO STATE TREASURER-ELECT HARMON M. KEPHART.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EYRE offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Whereas, The Chief Clerk of the Senate, the Hon. Harmon M. Kephart of Fayette County, will assume the duties of State Treasurer of this Commonwealth on Monday next, May 7, 1917, and

Whereas, The members of the Senate appreciate the long and faithful service rendered by the retiring Chief Clerk and are desirous of witnessing his taking the oath of office.

Now therefore be it resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth, whom precedent has decreed as the proper officer to administer the oath of office to incoming State Treasurers, be and is hereby invited by the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to administer the oath of office as State Treasurer to the Hon, Harmon M. Kephart in the Senate Chamber at high noon this day, May 2, 1917.

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT STATE TREASURER-ELECT TO THE BAR OF THE SENATE.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I move that a committee of two be appointed by the Chair to escort the Honorable Harmon M. Kephart to the bar of the Senate for the purpose of taking the oath of office.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair appoints as such committee the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, and the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Crow.

The Chair desires to read in behalf of the retiring Chief Clerk his sentiments upon retiring from the position which he has so long and so faithfully occupied. Modesty prevents him from expressing these sentiments, therefore he has asked me to substitute for him.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

In passing from the position that you have honored me with to one where the duties are more difficult and arduous I want to express to each of you my sincere appreciation for your many acts of kindness. In my association with you I have endeavored to be a friend regardless of politics and I shall always cherish the many kindly expressions of sentiment and feeling given by each of you. No spot in my life has a greater charm for me because of your good fellowship and companionship than the position of Chief Clerk of the Senate of Pennsylvania. In leaving you I feel that I would be ungrateful if I did not particularly remember one man to whom more than to any other I owe my political success. Through his recommendation you accepted me as Chief Clerk, through his efforts, with others, I will become State Treasurer of this State. My heart swells with a feeling inexpressible when I think of the brotherly affection shown toward me by this man, the Senator from Fayette, William E. Crow. But I will be around often. You know where the office is. The latch string will always be out to the men that I have served with in this body and the State's money at their disposal, provided, of course, that the proper enactment has been made by the General Assembly.

The PRESIDENT. I know that I voice the sentiment of not only every man now a member of this Senate, but as well every man who has been a member of this honorable body since the time Mr. Kephart came into it in the capacity of Chief Clerk, when I say: May the sunlight of success sweep down the pathway of his administration of the office upon which he is about to enter and cast no shadows.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO STATE TREASURER-ELECT KEPHART.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, it is with a feeling of joy and sorrow that I present to you the retiring Chief Clerk; joy that he steps into a higher position, and sorrow that this Senate loses his genial companionship and his efficient services.

The PRESIDENT. The Secretary of the Commonwealth will now administer the oath of office to the Honorable Harmon M. Kephart, State Treasurer-elect.

The oath of office was then administered to the State Treasurer-elect by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

RECESS.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes, that the members of the Senate may present their felicitations to the new State Treasurer.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

PRAYER.

Our Father and our God, Thou hast invited us to come to Thee with our sins, our troubles, our cares and our sorrows.

Thou hast promised us mercy, comfort, strength and healing for our sickness and wisdom for our ignorance when we come to Thee. We thank Thee for all these gracious invitations and blessed assurances.

We praise Thee and rejoice that we can come to Thee. We appreciate all Thy divine love and grace to help us in the time of need.

Whilst all nature is in a state of transformation we come to Thee this beautiful morning with our burdens that sink us into eternal despair and pray for aid.

We lack in wisdom for life's questions, its duties and its responsibilities. Give us then strength, wisdom and grace for every moment so that we can be happy here and shall ever be writing forbearance over every cemetery gate, on each church altar and in the hearts of all of us. Receive us and bless and help us at all times. We ask it all through the Redeemer. Amen.

In the House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pa., May 2, 1917.

Whereas The Governor in language most sublime and fitting pays a just tribute to the mothers of the State in the following proclamation:

"Mothers of men, guardains of homes, moral guides of the Nation—You the givers of all that sweetest, purest and noblest in life, I greet and salute. Fitting indeed it is to sanctify ourselves on May 13 by reverent regard and tenderest thought of mother. If she is here still be thankful and pay her the respect her exalted station warrants and merits. If she be not here may our thoughts and our pure love climb the Angel-trod stairs to her abiding Home, that she of the Chair Invisible may sing with Him the glad song of a mother beloved and remembered."

Whereas: This House by its recent vote sustained these lofty sentiments by defeating a measure intended to strike at the very foundation of the mothers' "exalted station."

Be it Resolved: That this House do endorse the splendid tribute paid by the Governor to our mothers and that we do re-affirm our allegiance to the noblest of God's creation—ideal mothers.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. McVICAR offered the following resolution, which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1917.

Whereas The allies of the United States in the great war now pending are in need of mony, food and men; and

Whereas Our National Government, with commendable celerity has made provision to help our allies with money and food; and

Be it Resolved (of the Senate concur) That, if our National Government deems it wise to send an expeditionary force into France, that it is the sense of the General Assembly that the offer of the Honorable Theodore Roosevelt should be immediately accepted and that such changes in the measure pending before Congress should be promptly made as are necessary for the accomplishment of the purpose.

Resolved further, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the President of the United States, and the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

MR. RAMSEY IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. REICHENBACKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 751, File Folio 2839, on page 37 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 751, entitled

An Act to fix the compensation for members of the General Assembly.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there is no conscription law in Pennsylvania compelling service in this legislative body. I do not believe a single member of this House is prompted to serve here because of the salary attached to the office of Representative, but from a higher purpose and a desire to render a public service to the citizens of this Commonwealth. This session may not extend beyond the time of the average session, but even if it should that would not be an argument for the passage of this ibll. Unusual conditions and questions surround this legislative session, having a tendency to prolong it that may not occur again in many, many years. It is very evident that the sponsor of this bill which is under consideration feels that his services at least are worth twenty-five hundred dollars to the people of Wayne County, but for myself, I feel that fifteen hundred dollars, with the provision for additional compensation for the extra sessions, amply pay me for all the service I am able to render my constituents in Tioga County for a two years' term, with my actual service limited to from four to five months. In order that we may put this question squarely up to our constituents, and get their estimate of the value of our services to them, let us defeat this bill, and then one year hence those of us who are seeking re-election can put a plank in our personal platform to the effect that we feel that we have been underpaid for our services in the past, and if again elected and returned here will support a bill increasing our salaries to twenty-five hundred dollars, and let them put their estimate on the value of our services to them at that time.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—3.

Isherwood, Rhodes, W. M., Rothenberger,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 338 (Senate Bill No. 61), entitled

An Act to enable foreign religious and charitable corporations to hold real estate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill was here in substantially the same form two years ago and failed of passage. It is a bill that would enable religious and charitable corporations organized outside the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to hold real estate within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the yearly value of twenty thousand dollars. It was urged two years ago in the Legislature that there was no reason why foreign religious and charitable associations should not submit themselves wholly and fully to the jurisdiction of the courts of Pennsylvania and no argument was adduced against that statement. Now the bill is here again and unless some one can show reason why a foreign religious and charitable association should not subject itself to our laws fully and completely and that its affairs might not be examined by our courts this bill ought not to pass. It is not wholly a question of property rights; it is a question of the administration of charity, and that is something as to which the citizenship of Pennsylvania, acting through the courts of the Commonwealth, should have something to say.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I think this is a very hard bill to understand. Inasmuch as I am of the opinion that the federal law steps in here—I don't know whether I am correctly informed or not—I would like to have somebody explain this bill. I think the federal law reads that foreign people residing in foreign lands, under certain restrictions, cannot have title to any land in the United States. It seems to me under this law they could come in under the head of charitable institutions and secure property in this country and that would be contrary to the federal law. If that is a fact or whether it is not a fact, I would like to know. This bill is very broad in its assertion.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I notice the sponsor of this bill in the Hall of the House, Senator Daix, and while I have never seen it done, yet I would like to ask the privilege of the floor for the Senator so that he might explain the provisions of this bill. It seems that no one in the House understands the bill. I would like the sponsor to have the privilege of the floor, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. It is a very unusual procedure to ask the privilege of the floor for a person not a member for the purpose of explaining a bill.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I make that motion.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to inquire of the Chair whether or not this procedure is in order under the rules of the House. I merely ask for information.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, there seems to have been considerable fear as to what may lie hidden behind this bill. I am in no position to explain except to say this: That the bill was introduced into the Senate by Senator Daix at the instance of a representative of a Lutheran church, not a foreign corporation for any business, simply a congregation, in order to enable them to purchase a church and hold real estate in which to worship. I don't think there is anything we need to be afraid of in this bill under those circumstances. If there should be any real objections to it I would be glad to have it sent back to the committee from which it came in order that the parties interested might be given a hearing. If there is anything in this bill open to objection I think we can safely leave it up to the Governor to carefully review and consider the matter. As far as I can see, it is only an enabling act to enable a Lutheran congregation to build a church.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion to accord Senator Daix the privilege of the floor.

I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1331 (Senate Bill No. 567), entitled

An Act to amend section nineteen of an act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred thirty-six entitled "An Act relating to roads highways and bridges."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, this is a Senate bill and has reference to roads. I would like to hear from someone in the House who knows something about it and can tell what the purpose of the bill is.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides that where a State highway route has been authorized and never opened, no work done on it, that it may be abandoned just through the regular court procedure by the petition of a certain number of people who originally petitioned for the road route.

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Rininger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RININGER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Blair state whether or not that is the law as it exists now and state the change proposed in this bill.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, in view of the question that has been raised I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1152.

Mr. FITZGIBBON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1152, File Folio 2129, entitled

An Act providing that persons associations and corporations owning occupying or controlling premises upon which any contractor or sub-contractor shall be permitted to do certain classes of construction work shall be liable for the wages of all employes engaged in such work and for the cost of all materials supplied for such work unless the contractor or sub-contractor shall file a bond for the immediate payment of wages and the cost of material when due providing that a contractor shall be liable for the wages of employes of any sub-contractor and for the cost of materials furnished to any sub-contractor unless such sub-contractor shall file a bond covering the same requiring every such contractor or sub-contractor to file a bond specifying the form and amount of such bond and permitting persons furnishing labor or materials to sue in such bond to recover wages and the cost of such materials.

was defeated on final passage on May 1st be reconsidered.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. FITZGIBBON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading on May 1st, be reconsidered.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WICKMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committe on Labor and Industry for amendment.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1337 (Senate Bill No. 675), entitled

An Act validating marriages contracted on or before the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six within or without the State of Pennsylvania between parties resident within the State of Pennsylvania at the time for the approval ofthis act where continuous cohabitation of the parties contracting the marriage for a period of twenty-one years has followed such marriage notwithstanding any impediment or obstacle which may have existed under the law of Pennsylvania at the time such marriage was performed and making legitimate all children born of parents whose marriages are validated under this act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides for the validating of a former marriage where the parties have entered a contract and have lived together continuously for a period of twenty-one years. No matter what impediment or obstacle may have existed at that time; no matter what impediment or obstacle may now exist, that marriage is still intended to be validated. It asumes, therefore, that some impediment existed at the time of the contract of the marriage. Let us assume, for the moment, that the man had another wife living; that he moved to an adjoining state with this second wife and lived in adultery for twenty-one years This act validates such a marriage. So far as I am able to understand this act, it does not undertake to grant a divorce to the first wife; it does not undertake to change their relations in any form whatsoever. We, therefore, have the second marriage validated. We, therefore, have a bigamist; and if I understand this law, he has two wives; he has not been divorced from the first. If that be true, then I cannot understand why a man should not possibly have three or four wives and every one of them be legal wives in this State. It does seem to me that this is a very vicious act. But one step further and that is this: What are the property rights of the first wife? This act does not undertake to say. That man would have two wives living, both of them having the right to inherit the property and both sets of children the right to inherit property and perhaps later he might have another wife under the same circumstances. Surely, we are not going to create a situation of that kind in this State now. I understand that this bill is being proposed for the specific purpose of validating the marriage of some particular individual. If that man has some obstacle in the way, let him go and get a divorce and if he is not entitled to a divorce then he ought not to come into this Legislature and ask us to validate a marriage where he could not get a divorce under our law. I say it is unfair to come here and ask us to do that in order to validate some particular marriage. If he cannot get a divorce then it ought not to be validated here. It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that this law ought not to pass.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, there is another point of view to this bill. It has to do with children that are now considered illegitimate. I have always objected to the use of the word "illegitimate" as applied to children. There is no such thing as illegitimate children; every once in a while there are some illegitimate people who bring into the world those who are legally illegitimate, and if they have repented for their sins and desire to put a good name on those children and clear up the wrong which has been committed, why, this Legislature should not stand in their way. I ask you to vote for the bill.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to occupy the time of the House in its deliberations, but like my friend, I am not led by sentiment to favor anything that I think is wrong, but I am moved by the purport of this bill. For example, let us cite this particular case on which this particular bill is being drafted. Mr. Brown, we will say, was employed in the City of Pittsburgh. Mr. Brown secures a lucrative position in the City of Detroit in the State of Michigan. After being there for some time he requests his wife to move to Detroit with him and occupy their home. Mrs. Brown refuses to accede to his request. Mr. Brown, under the laws of the State of Michigan, is entitled to a divorce, which he receives and he again remarries in the State of Michigan. From this connection there are three or four children. Mr. Brown turns back to the State of Pennsylvania twenty years later and finds that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania refuses to accept the divorce granted in the State of Michigan. Now, Mr. Brown has introduced his wife whom he has married in Michigan to the society of Detroit and the society of the State in general as his legally wedded wife, with every sincerity and every purpose of heart and good faith. He returns and finds that the children from this offspring, if I may be permitted to use this term, and I do not like to use it although it is applied—are bastard children, and this is a very serious condition for him after he has lived as the father of these children for twenty years and with the mother of these children for twenty years, living in a wedded life with this wife in every sanctity and now she finds that she has been living with a man practically in a house of ill-repute, or simply as his wife by association. This bill is only for the purpose of correcting such an evil and because there is no jurisdiction, as I understand it, not being a lawyer, and I am only asking for what information we can receive, and I trust that this man and this good woman's experience will be considered by this House and that the wisdom of this House will be moved to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I will and will endeavor to answer the question if it is not a legal one.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I would say if this Mr. Brown had deserted his wife and had run away with another man's wife to Detroit and had gone through the form of a marriage ceremony there, whether this bill would not validate that marriage?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that question; I am not a lawyer. I am not familiar with the law part of this question. Some of our legal friends possibly can answer that.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker I should like to say this, that as I read this bill that is just exactly what it would do. A man goes away with another man's wife and leaves his own, it will validate that marriage. It seems to me we cannot pass a bill that is so vicious in order to help out somebody who has done something somewhere that he is ashamed of.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I trust that I may not be considered presumptious at this time if I may dare to answer the question that Dr. Steedle was unable to answer. I say that the case given by the gentleman from Westmoreland would not come within the act, that no man is legally and lawfully married as provided by this act, that is, by marriage duly contracted and solemnized, unless he has first acquired a divorce. I would ask the gentleman from Westmoreland if he could give me an instance, any instance, where a man could have two wives and still come within the provisions of this act; whether any man can be duly married under a marriage that has been contracted and duly solemnized and still have another wife living anywhere?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides as I read it that where they have duly contracted and duly solemnized a marriage the act specifically says that in such a case where it was not valid, this act makes it valid. If the marriage were valid we would have no occasion to pass an act validating that marriage. Therefore, it is simply a case of where the contract was invalid and where the act was not solemnized and recognized by the law, and we are now validating that. If I read this act correctly, the case which I presented comes exactly within that law.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I respectfully submit to the House that there can be no marriage as provided by this act, duly contracted and solemnized, where the man or wife has another wife or husband living anywhere. That is true under the laws as laid down by the Legislature, the laws of morality, and the laws of God. There cannot be a marriage contracted and duly solemnized anywhere if either party has a husband or wife still living. Now as I read this act and understand the circumstances behind it, it was meant to correct the evil that was set down sometime ago where it was decided, I think by the Supreme Court, that if a divorce is granted in one jurisdiction on a ground that is not a valid ground in another jurisdiction, that the children as a result of that marriage contract by either party are legitimate. Now morally, legally and ethically, this act should pass.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was decided in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Senate Bill No. 119 (House Bill No. 1218), File Folio 605, on page 36 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1218 (Senate Bill No. 119), entitled

An Act providing for the filling of vacancies in the office of tax collecter in boroughs and townships by the county commissioners and repealing certain acts inconsistent therewith.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker when this bill was before the House last week, I examined it and I find that it places the appointment of tax collectors in boroughs and townships wholly in the hands of the county commissioners with the approval ofthe court. The present law places, or leaves, the filling of vacancies in the hands of the court upon the recommendation of the borough authorities. Now in most cases, the collection of the county tax is an unimportant matter for the reason that in most counties the county tax is small and the borough and school tax is large.

It would hardly be advisable to give the county commissioners, who, in many instances, only receive about one-fourth or less of the total taxes collected, the right to appoint the tax collector, whereas the borough will receive one-half or more of all the taxes collected. The tax collector is more particularly the official of the borough and local school district than of the county commissioners, and therefore the law ought not to be changed. It seems to work very satisfactory in its present form, and where there is no evil to correct or objection to overcome the law ought to stand as it is.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, all of the business of the tax collector now is done through the county commissioners. They have all to do with it and the court has nothing to do with it. As Mr. Walters said, the county commissioners certify as to the appointment and the courts make the appointment. It would work a benefit when a vacancy occurs in these cases that if the county commissioners, who deal with the men, would be allowed to appoint the men as they see fit, who would be the best qualified to take up the work, without the approval of the court, because the court is not in a position to judge whether or not he would make the best collector as to efficiency. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if he thinks this bill is harmful.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would reply to the gentleman from Schuylkill by saying that it is harmful, in that it gives the county commissioners, who receive only a portion of the taxes, exclusive power to deal with vacancies, whereas the borough officials who receive a greater portion of the taxes collected would have nothing to say about it. The principal business, I take it, of the tax collector is to turn over the money to the tax levying authorities.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Franklin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. I will.

Mr. PALMER. Do the tax collectors ever come in contact with the court.

Mr. WALTER. No, except when they embezzle.

Mr. PALMER. I desire to further interrogate the gentleman and ask him if the county commissioners do not have more to do with the business of the tax collectors than the courts ever do.

Mr. WALTER. I think that is true. The objection I have to the bill is that it ignores the other authorities and places this power solely in the hands of the county commissioners.

Mr. PALMER. Why did you not then introduce an act to take it away from the courts?

Mr. WALTER. The present act work very satisfactorily, the courts as a rule appointing upon the recommendation of the taxing authorities.

Mr. PALMER. Have you any reason for believing that it would not work more satisfactorily if this law was passed.

Mr. WALTER. No, I think not, because the bulk of the taxes would be paid to a body that would have nothing to do with the appointment of the tax collector.

Mr. PALMER. That is the way it is now practically. The court is not in a position at all to know the business of the tax collectors, as the law now is, and have nothing to do with them.

Mr. WALTER. None whatever, except to approve the appointment.

Mr. PALMER. Therefore you admit that this bill is all right with that exception.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I am not ready to admit that any bill which changes a law that has been satisfactory for a period of about twenty-two years, is necessarily all right.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 376.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 26, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 376, entitled "An Act to amend section three hundred three of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled 'An Act to stablish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith.'"

This Bill amends the School Code by providing that secretaries of school boards in the 2nd and 3rd class districts shall be elected for four (4) years instead of one (1) year and in the 4th class districts for a term not exceeding four (4) years.

There is no valid reason why the secretaries of school boards should be thus set apart from the other officers of the boards and given this special premanency of service. The School Boards are by law the responsible body in all school matters in their several districts. They should have control of their officers and agents and should not have by law any officers bequeathed to them by action of previous boards for a term of four years whether such officers are satisfactory or not. The effect would be to operate in the interest of certain secretaries rather than in the interest of the school district.

This and hundreds of other like matters were carefully considered by the School Code Commission and rejected because they were not consistent with the spirit of the Code and against sound educational and administrative procedure.

For these reasons the Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this veto, together with the bill, be laid on the table.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 735.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 26, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 735, entitled "An Act to amend section one of an act approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled 'An Act to fix the salaries to be paid to the jury commissioners county jailor and jail physician in counties having over eight hundred thousand and less than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants according to the last preceding United States census.'"

This Bill increases the salaries of jury commissioners in Allegheny County from $1,200 per year to $2,500 per year.

It is a matter of record that no official or citizen—other than members of the House of Representatives have taken the trouble to express an opinion upon a Bill that increase the cost of government in this county. The duties of a jury commissioner are not burdensome. These officers do not give all their time by any means to this office. Their livelihood is not dependent upon the compensation paid for this service. To increase the salary would not increase the quality of service. Apparently these officials now perform their duties acceptably and there is no dearth of candidates for the places.

For these reasons this Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this veto, together with the bill, be laid on the table.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 799.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 19, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 799, entitled "An Act to regulate the salaries of criers and tipstaves in the courts of common pleas oyer and terminer and general jail delivery quarter sessions of the peace and orphans' court in counties having a population of over eight hundred thousand and less than one million four hundred thousand inhabitants."

This Bill purports to fix the salaries of court criers and tipstaves in certain counties having over 800,000 and less than 1,400,000 population. In reality it applies only to one county. Section 3 of the Bill provides that this proposed Bill "shall not be construed to repeal or limit any of the provisions of" the Act of June 9, 1911, which act provides different salaries in counties having over 1,000,000 and less than 1,500,000 population. This at once raises a confusion in the matter of salaries in counties having over 1,000,000 and less than 1,400,000 population. In other words the Bill is self-contradictory and fails to do what it attempts to do. In its attempt to readjust certain salaries in an interested county it declares that these salaries shall not be readjusted.

Manifestly such legislation should never be approved.

For these reasons this Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this veto, together with the bill, be laid on the table.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 657.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 19, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 657, entitled "An Act fixing the salaries of writ servers and process servers in the office of the sheriff in counties containing a population of more than one million four hundred thousand inhabitants."

This Bill applies only to Philadelphia. These writ servers and process servers are to my personal knowledge a deserving group. They are not duly compensated for the important service they render. I should be glad to see them better paid. But the salary they now receive, namely, $900 was fixed by an act of Councils of said City. Councils, I am advised, has since this Bill was presented increased the salaries to $1,000. The whole question is one of local municipal control and not of State regulation. Where by law a local government is full of power to deal rightly by its officials the Commonwealth ought not mandamus the local government. This is Philadelphia's problem not the Commonwealth's.

For these reasons this Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this veto, together with the bill, be laid on the table.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 259.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 19, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 259, entitled "An Act providing that all printing done for or by the State of Pennsylvania shall bear the union label of the Allied Printing Trades."

This Bill if enforced might invalidate present contracts made by due process of law by the State Printer and lay the Commonwealth open to heavy damages and compel the making of new contracts at largely increased prices.

If the Bill provided that the State printing were to be done by certain designated individuals it would carry its Constitntional condemnation on its face. The effect of this Bill is the same. It requires that State printing shall be done by a special class of people and by them only. Section I, Article I of the Constitution guarantees equal rights to all and a man who is not a member of the Allied Printing Trades has as much right to bid on State printing as has one who is a member.

Moreover it violates Article 3, Sections 7 and 12 of the Constitution which sections specificially forbid the enactment of special legislation of the character contemplated in this Bill. We should all stoutly resist any attempt to enact a law that would discriminate against union labor. The reverse is equally obvious. The cause of labor is not promoted by enactments that violate the Constitution or by creating special classes and granting to them special privileges. In an open free field of professional endeavor the Commonwealth has only one obligation—to render equal justice to all.

For these reasons this Bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. RININGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this veto, together with the bill, be laid on the table..

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

MR. STITES IN THE CHAIR.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1440 (Senate Bill No. 662), entitled

An Act regulatng the packing of apples providing penalties for violations and imposing certain duteis upon the Department of Agriculture.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask if there is any person here who can explain this bill, and why it should be enacted into a law.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill is an apple packing bill, apple marking bill. The purpose of this bill is to have an honest grading of apples for sale when they are marked and shipped by the packer. The purpose of the bill is further to insure the purchaser of the apples that the purchaser or buyer of those apples receives the standard grade that the contracted to buy. We have frequently seen in buying strawberries or in buying in fact any fruit, that they have packed the big ones on the top and the little ones on the bottom. If this bill passes, it will be necessary for the shipper to mark the grade of apples on box or package in which those apples are packed, and have them brought up to a certain standard so that the packer cannot put the big apples on the top and the small ones on the bottom. The bill does not effect the small grower who takes his apples to market in open baskets or crates; nor does it effect the man who sends a box of apples as a gift. It requires that the name and number of the packer, the name of the variety and the minimum size of the fruit contained be plainly marked on the outside of the barrel or box; and it requires that the face or top of the barrel shall plainly represent the contents in common honesty. It merely makes the man who sells or puts the apples on the market for sale, give what he has contracted to give and it insures the consumer that he will get what he pays for when he buys a box of apples.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPANGLER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York if other states, such as New York, New Jersey, Maryland and such states have similar laws to this.

Mr. SPANGLER. I am unable to answer the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I think we have in this state farmers as honest as those in New York, New Jersey and the other states, and that they should not be placed in a position where they have to mark certain things on a barrel of apples that the other states do not have to. I think it is putting the farmers and apple growers in Pennsylvania at a disadvantage, and I would ask the gentlemen of the House to vote against this bill.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, there is one feature of this bill to which I wish to call the attention of the House, and that is that Pennsylvania apples are sold in competition with Washington and Oregon apples, which are alleged to be the finest grown. Pennsylvania growers dispute that fact. Two years ago I gave this matter of an apple packing bill very careful attention and I then learned that the reason Oregon apples and Washington apples brought better prices and were more desired by the fancy trade in our large cities was because you could always depend upon the brand and packing, and for that reason it made them more salable because every purchaser knew what he would get. My own constituency are greatly interested in this bill, and I assume that the Senator from our district, who introduced this bill in the Senate, has been in consultation with them. The subject is a rather large one, and two years ago when it was proposed to pass an apple bill here, similar in its provisions to this one, the State of New York did have such an act, and a much more drastic one than this. I am not able to state, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Potter, if that act is yet on the statute books. I have no information on the subject, but it was two years ago, and was advanced as an rgument in support of this bill. Now in view of the fact that there may be a great deal of question on the bill and that there ought to be further information given to the House in connection with its discussion,

BILL POSTPONED.

I move you, Sir, that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.
